Suspended Silent
in that unknown void before the beginning

Flint and Steel
Man and Woman
a spark is struck a fuse is kindled

a life begins,
glowing hesitantly in the darkness.

Life grows
Light glows
in an ever-increasing brightness Burning along the slender thread of one's own time

Life feeds on Life

Gulping, Gnawing, Sputtering, consuming Knowledge,
Experience,
Love.

Racing, Running, Reaching for dreams.

When fire touches powder when dreams are grasped and so fills the longing void inside
Life explodes in joyous celebration of Life.

Vibrant colors
Whirling
Dancing
Singing a color song
Shouting in a spectrum of glory.

Each person paints
a different pattern
in the sky.
All patterns mingle in an eternal rhythm.

Let us reach for our dreams,
Let us join in the dance,
Let us celebrate Life.

Before the FIREWORKS
are engulfed
once again
in blackness.

Administration sets new policies, regulations

Dale Siefkes, Superintendent, acted as chief executive and supervisor of Waverly Schools. With the School Board, he made a set of long and short range plans to be used through the year: pursuing development programs for the handicapped by setting up special classes for speech therapy, develop mental reading, and individual help; continuing the study of junior-senior high instructional programs to improve education for students by placing learning packages in foreign language classes, individualizing chemistry, setting up a progress and placement in math courses and special units of instruction in the vocational department; installing radios in busses for safety; pursuing the availability of health services through the Educational Service Units.

Members of the School Board were: Wayne Nielson (Chairman); William Fahleson; Art Althouse; Shirley Bevans; Lou Ganz; Eugene Brockemeyer, Dale Siefkes was the recording secretary.

1) Mr. Dale Siefkes discusses problems with board chairman Wayne Nielson. 2) Board members: BACK ROW: Chairman Wayne Nielson; Mr. Art Althouse; Mr. William Fahleson; FIRST ROW: Mrs. Lou Ganz; Dr. Eugene Brockemeyer; Mrs. Shirley Bevans.

1) Dr. Mary Lou Novak and Mr. Doug Thompson talk with Mr. Jack Martin. 2) Mr. Allen Maybee presented many assemblies on his trip along the Oregon trail. 3) Rock Morris speaks with Mr. Robert Morris about an upcoming event.

Administration responsibilities shift

Dr. Mary Lou Novak, formerly the Curriculum Director, and Mr. Doug Thompson, shared the job of principal for the junior and senior high.

Athletic Director, Mr. Robert Morris, worked with the coaches in scheduling the games and figuring the budget.

Mr. Morris was also the Assistant Principal for the junior and senior high. He supervised the student affairs and activities.

Mr. Allen Maybee was the new guidance counselor of the senior high. Students enjoyed listening to a program given by Mr. Maybee about his adventures of riding the Oregon Trail.

Secretaries indispensable to school operation

Education is a business and, like all business, includes a lot of detailed itemizing. For 20 years, Mrs. Mable Munn paid bills, kept track of club money, prepared concession stands and activity accounts, and maintained records.

Keep track of 1500 teenagers? You're kidding - an impossible task. Yet this was the responsibility of Mrs. Audrey Johnson (A.J.) for the past seven years.

For two years, Miss Sue Schlaphof was responsible for all the typing and clerical duties.

Mrs. Shirley Bruhl had been secretary for four years for the superintendent.

Mrs. Harriet Johnson was the bookkeeper for 10 years and Mrs. Judy Burcham worked as a secretary in the superintendent's office.

1) Mrs. Harriet Johnson, Mrs. Judy Burcham and Mrs. Shirley Bruhl continue with never ending paper work. 2) Mrs. Mable Munn shows off a corsage received from Mrs. Jane Reed for helping with the concession stand at the Math and Science Fair. 3) Mrs. Audrey Johnson and Miss Sue Schlaphof finish office duties.

Cooks, bus drivers, custodians vital to school

Does your postman travel through sleet, snow, mud, and rain? No, but your Waverly busdriver does. Over 1500 miles per day were driven by Waverly school busdrivers. Keith Hayes was responsible to see that bus transportation went smoothly.

A school day involves the preparation of an average of 500 meals. This was the responsibility of Grace Kalkwarf, and six other cooks.

Bill Gray, and the rest of his staff became familiar faces, as they kept everything in repair, and the building clean for students.

1) Carlton Bloom is one of the custodians who touches up the halls and keeps them continually clean. 2) Bus drivers are Keith Hayes, Ron Reynoldson, Cliff Thelen, Raymond Althouse, Helen Goff, Beth Bull, Garry Ossenkop, Mary Cooper, Dave Rasmussen, Vicki Olsen. 3) Cooks are Marjorie Sharp, Marilyn Manske, Barbara Minchow, Betty Lostroh, Grace Kalkwarf, Clara Allerheilegen, Grace Brown.

Students encouraged to discover occupations

Cake decorating in Mrs. Marion Lehigh's Home Ec. II and III was combined with room decor, floor design, and meal planning to prepare girls for living on their own. They also held a play school for children three to five years old.

New creative talents were discovered in Mrs. Carolyn Cook's adult living course. The classes learned to plan and prepare meals, manage money and sew.

The basics of parliamentary procedure, soil sciences, and shop projects were covered in Agriculture I,II,III, and IV, taught by Mr. Leon Wissmann.

Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest, Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) and learning basic engine theory were studied in Mr. Lynn Kaufmann's auto mechanics class.

Mrs. Beverly Newton and Mr. Verl Flack gave students skills and business acumen by offering courses of typing, shorthand, office machines, and accounting.

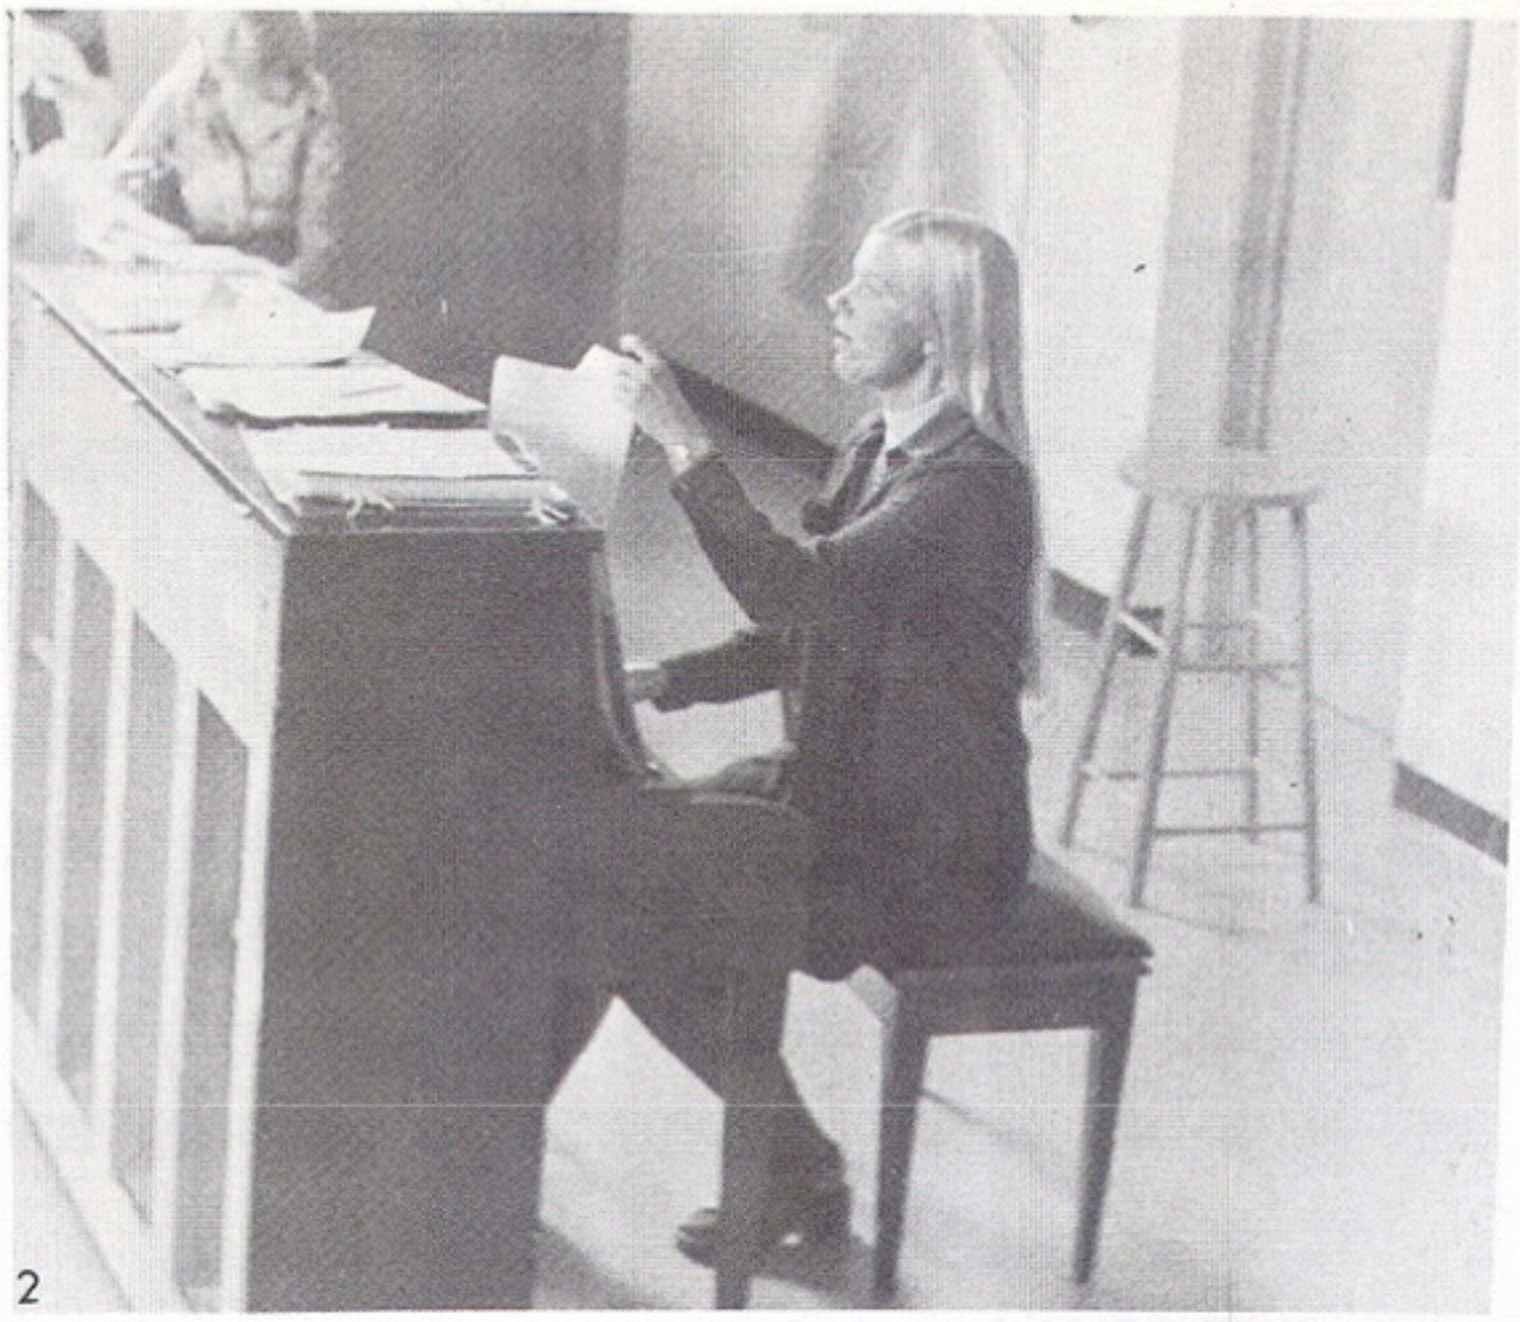
1) Mr. Leon Wissmann leads freshmen in class discussion. 2) Mr. Barry Pedley demonstrates a welding technique to Mark Grove. 3) Keith Leonhardt listens to Mr. Lynn Kaufman describe directions for auto mechanics. 4) Mr. Lyle Hermance finishes O.E. paper work. 5) Mr. David Dey explains a cutting tool to junior high students.



2

1) Mrs. Evelyn Harris and Julie White discuss the coming art show. 2) Mrs. June Voss plays piano for mixed chorus class. 3) Mr. Allen Lerdahl works with junior high art students. 4) Mr. Robert Maag opens present at his birthday party given by the band members. 5) Mr. Bill Uhri gets ready for practice session with Sharon Bevans.

Music, Art, Band have abundance of talent

Mr. Bill Uhri accompanied Mr. Robert Maag in directing the Senior High Band. In November the band marched in State Competition at Pershing Auditorium and for the first time, school enrollment moved the band into "A" Class. The band also performed in the annual soup supper, February 28.

Art classes were so popular under the teaching and supervision of Mrs. Evelyn Harris and Mr. Allen Lerdahl that enrollment had to be limited. Pottery classes constantly drew talented students who impressed patrons with their skill and creative achievements.

Mr. June Voss was the director of vocal music in the Junior and Senior Highs. The Concert Choir and Swing Choir performed at seven successful concerts.

Languages strengthen cultural consciousness

El Castellano es la lengua habla da por 150 million personas. Translated: Spanish is spoken by 150 million people.

Spanish students sampled Mexican and Spanish foods at the Los Sánchez restaurant. Another highlight was the Mexican Festival at the University of Nebraska. Students viewed Spanish paintings, sculptures, visited college Spanish classes and a book exhibit.

German III students played Monopoly in German to help them evolve a more fluent use of the language. The German classes all tasted German food and the German III class baked some Torten and Lebkuchen Herzen which were tarts and cookies.

Cartoons were studied in the German II class. Favorites in Germany were "Peanuts" and "Asterik."

1) Miss Mary Gangwish and Lyra Acree set up German Torten for Valentines Day. 2) Ms. Pamela Brakhage, Spanish teacher, converses in the teacher's lounge waiting for class to begin.

Struggle with self, others develops physical well-being

Shape up or ship out! No, you're not in the Navy, you're in Mrs. Lynn Lightner's girls class. Badminton, volleyball, basketball, gymnastics, and archery were among the athletic endeavors taught to shape up the body and familiarize students with different sports.

Mr. Randy Hash's boys classes concentrated on track, basketball, speedaway, square dancing, and so on for all-around muscle building and socializing proficiency.

Two classes of co-ed were taught by Mrs. Lightner and Mr. Hash. The students competed in ping pong, badminton, archery, wiffleball, and even tried a few jumps on the trampoline. More important, they learned to compete on a more relaxed basis where neither male nor female was given a dominant role.

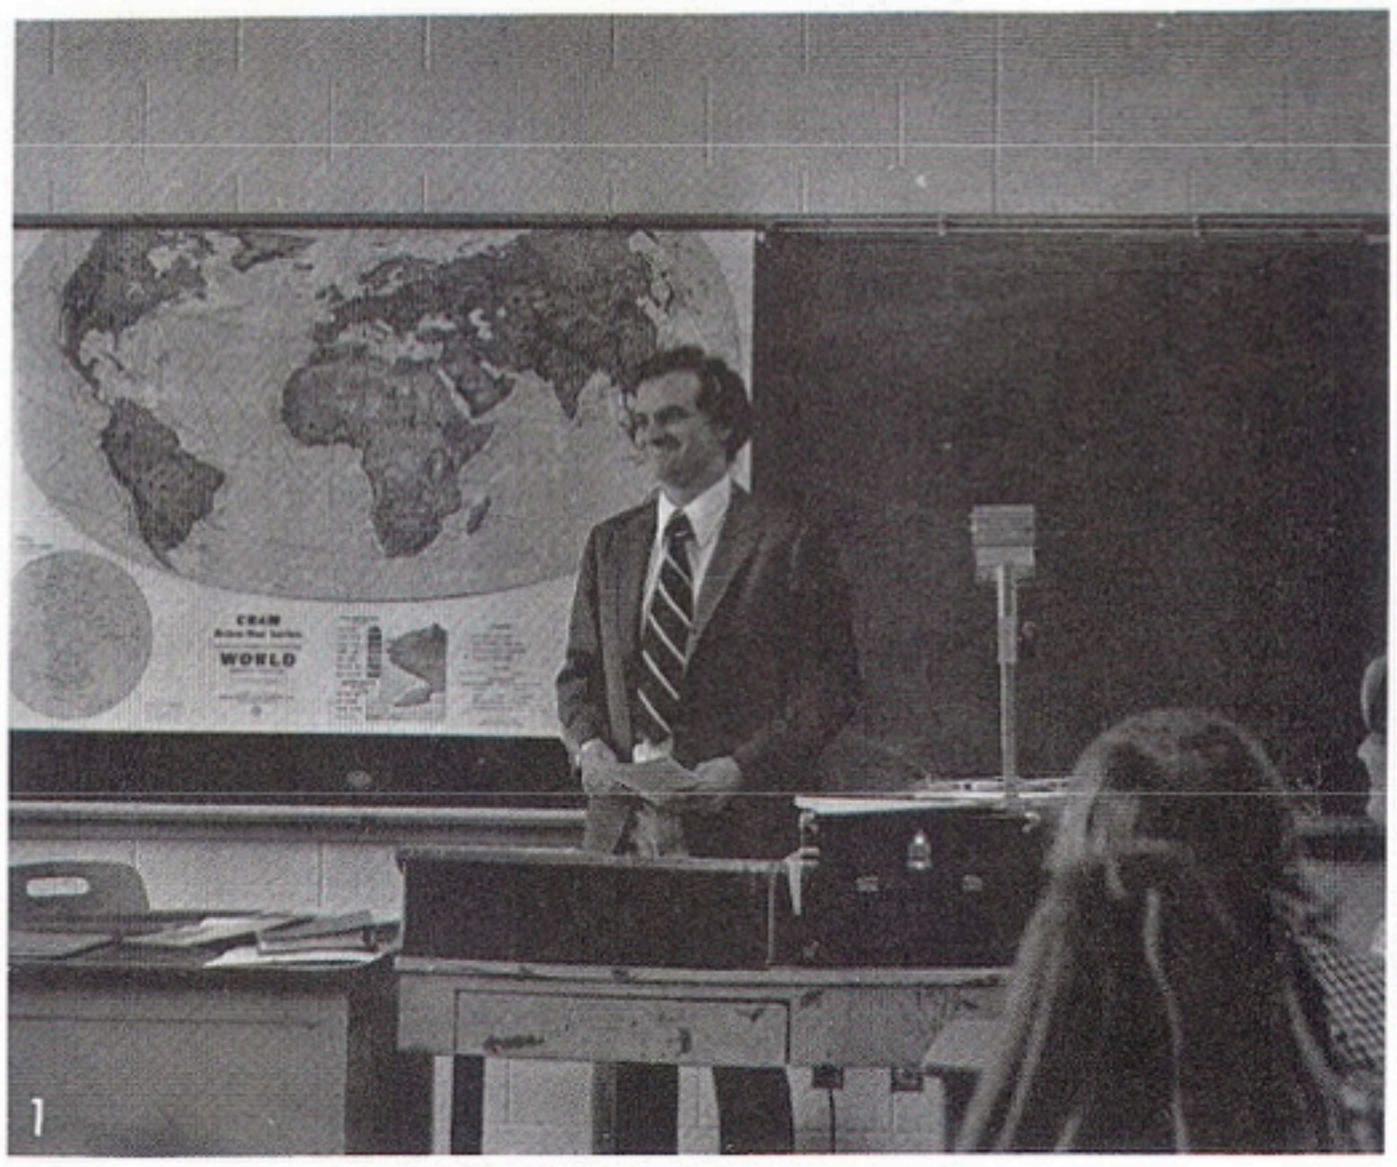
1) Mrs. Lynn Lightner and Jean Large talk about the upcoming track season. 2) Mr. Randy Hash speaks at a football rally. 3) Mrs. Karen Stoner discusses a call with the referee at state volleyball tournament.

Social studies focal topic of bicentennial year



Social studies was designed to show political functions of governments. Students studied the past and present to determine the future.

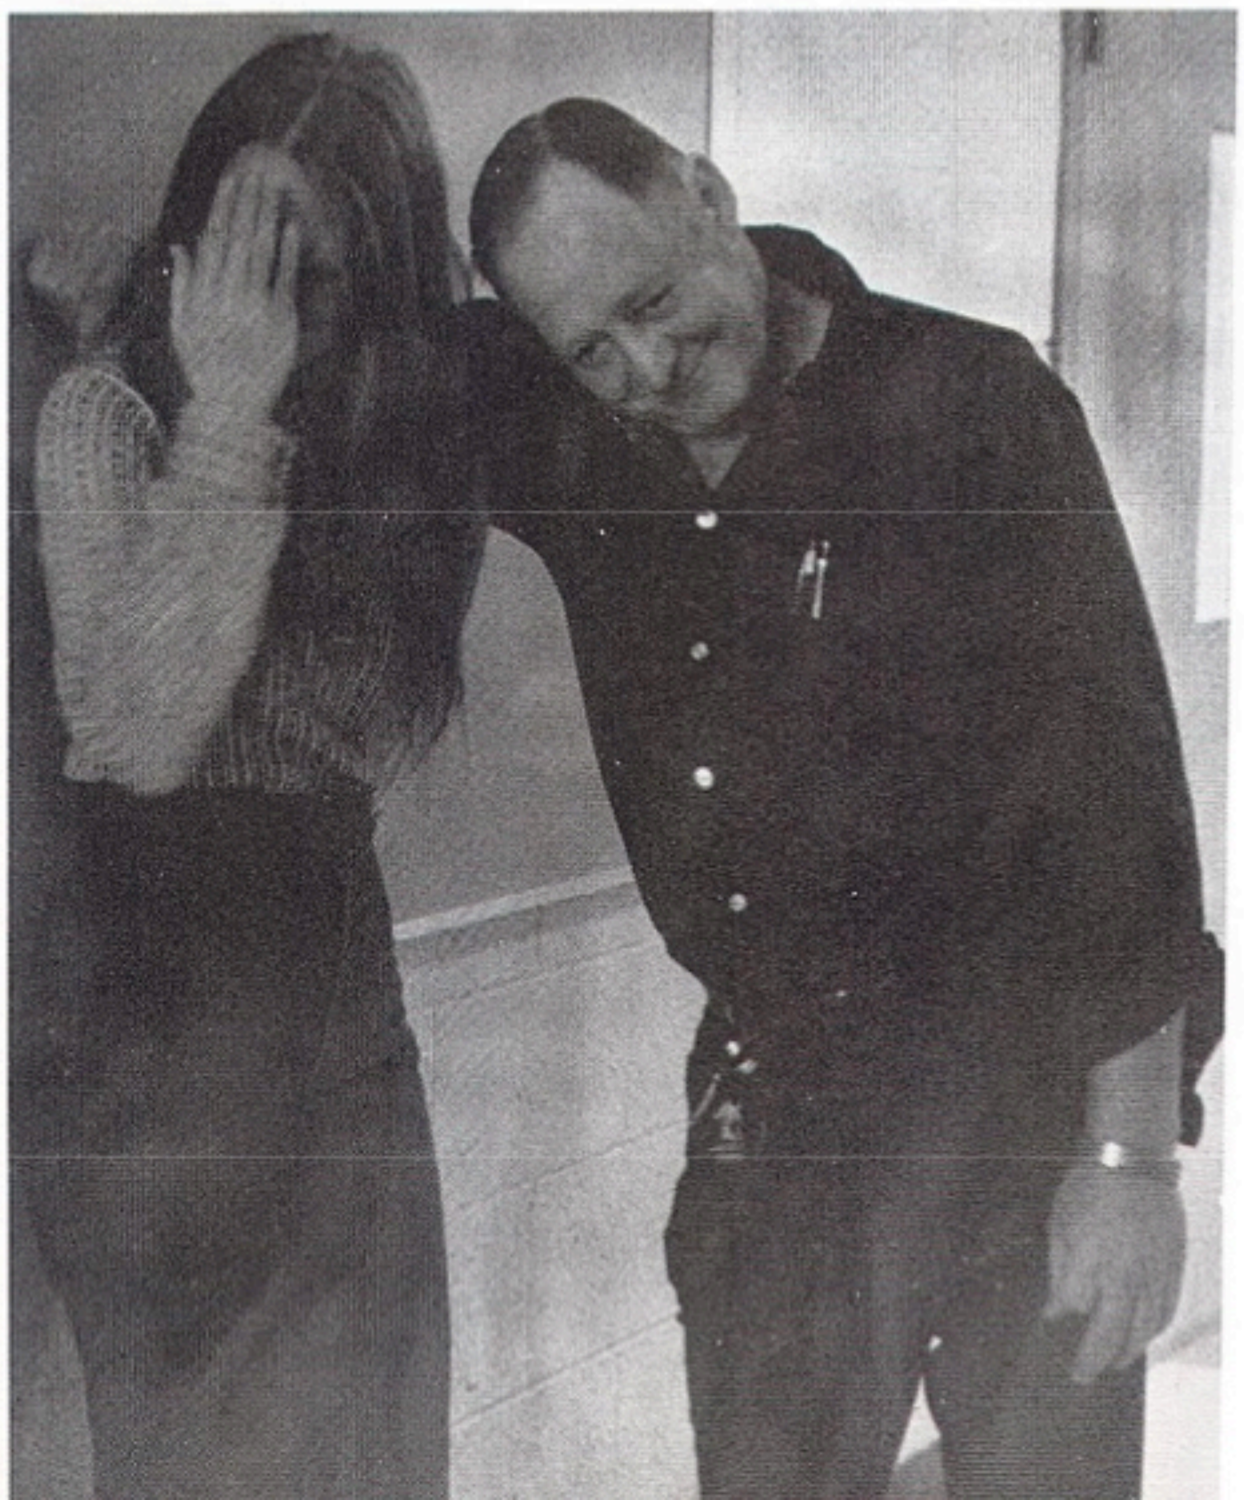
Students in Mr. Gary Lutz' modern problems class discussed the news. They participated in "Population" and "Aggression", a game where students made their own world war III.

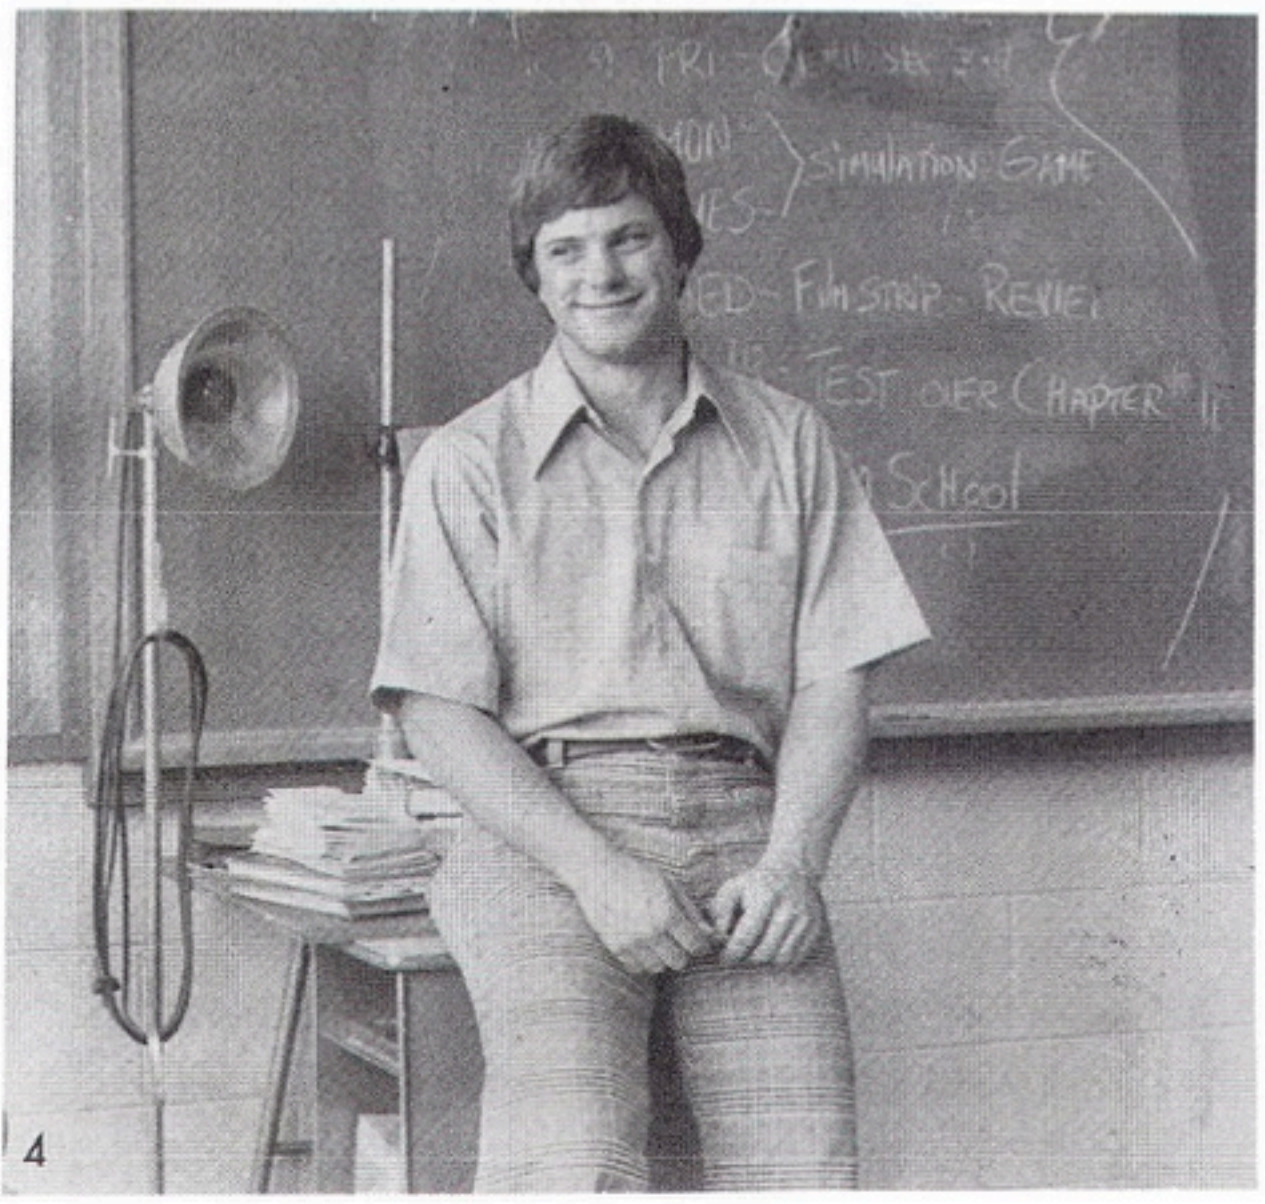
Mr. Charles Eastham and Mr. Rick Roffers taught American history. Students studied the growth of our nation from 13 colonies to 50 states and the advancement of the democratic system.

Members of the junior class participated in County Government Day, Dec. 1, 1975. Students volunteered for 12 county offices and were elected by juniors and seniors.

County Government Day was sponsored by the county officials and the American Legion Post #3. The officials coordinated the tour through the County City Building and described the responsibilities of the offices.

1) Modern Problems teacher, Mr. Garry Lutz, begins lecture for final days of senior classes. 2) Mr. Rick Roffers and assistant Tandy Doane grade sophomore history papers. 3) Mr. Charles Eastham flirts with Julie West. 4) Student teacher Mr. Bill Thompson lectures to junior history class.

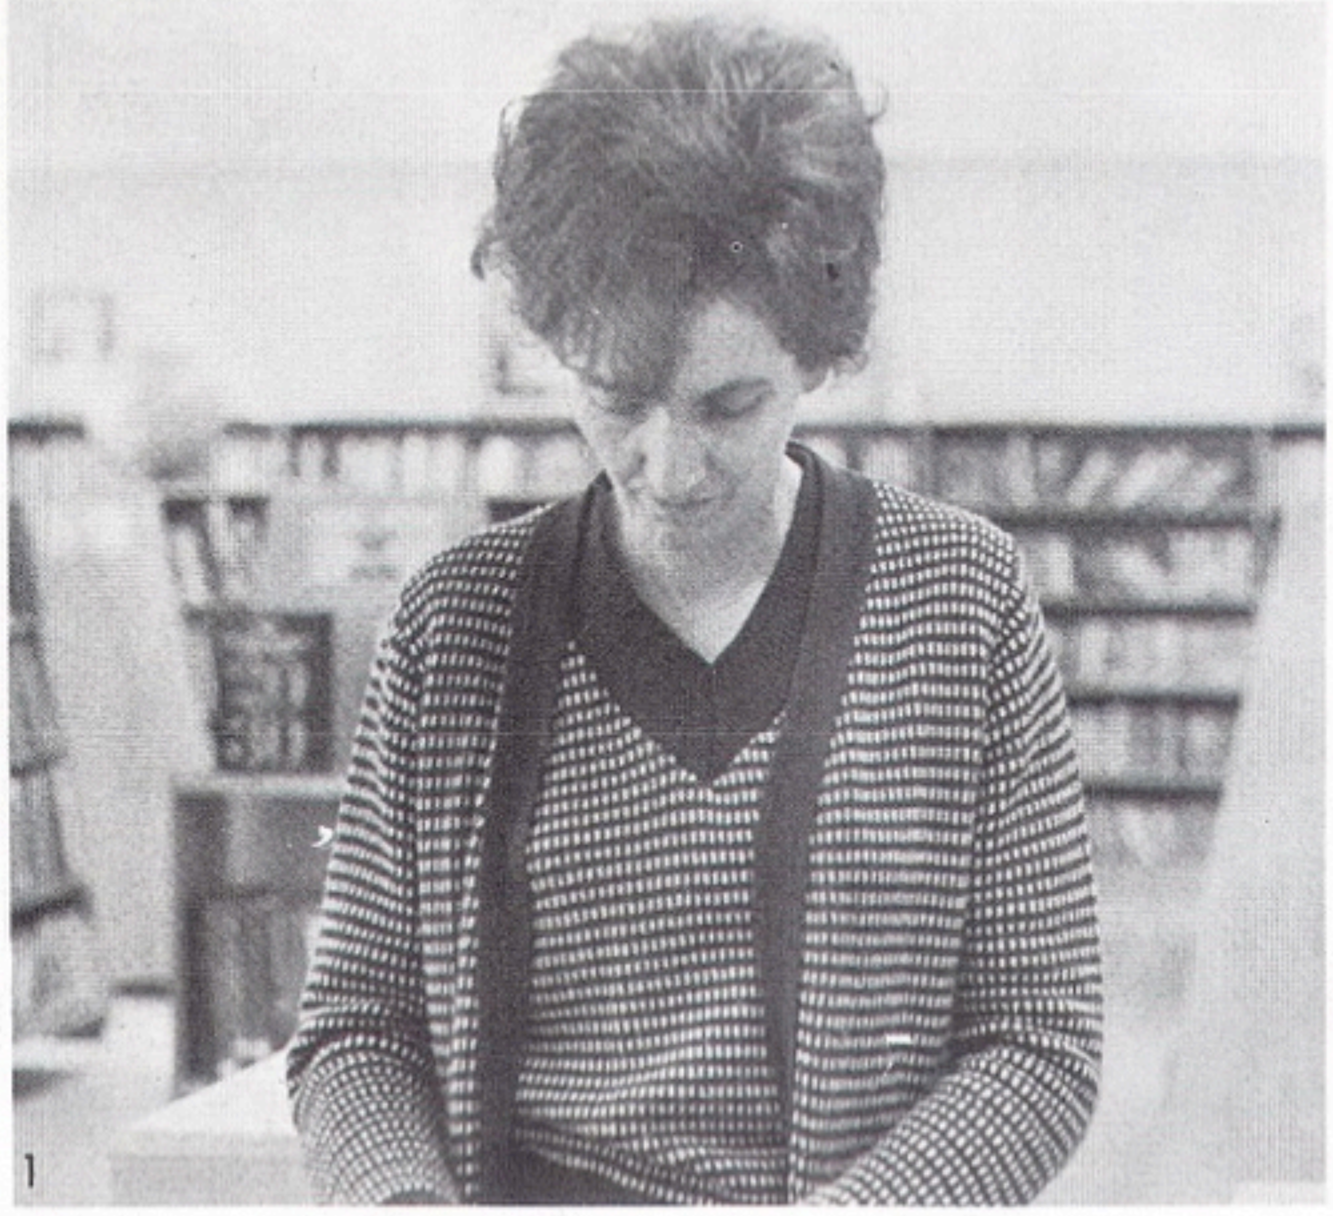




Library increases space to fill student needs

The library finished its remodeling. In addition to the extra room that contained fiction and non-fiction books, there were two new couches and racks for students using the magazine area.

The library was a service to both students and teachers, providing them with books for specific information and reading for enjoyment. It also had a wide variety of soundstrips and records and furnished projectors, record players, and tape recorders.



1) Mrs. Bonnie Salomens works diligently in the library indexing cards. 2) Rick Nobbe uses the library resources. 3) Mrs. Marge Fritz and Mrs. Vi Polk check the magazine file.

A new encounter for Waverly students was the poet in residence, Miss Nancy Peters, appointed by the Nebraska Arts Council to conduct the Poetry in Schools program. Miss Peters, who has had some of her own works published, helped students understand and create their own poetry. She also put together the best works of the students in a book.

Science Fiction/Super Heroes, offered for the first time, was taught by Mrs. Pat Schock and Mrs. Judy Schrader. The objectives were to use science fiction experiences to add to earthbound experiences, challenge imaginative powers and become aware of alternative futures. Super Heroes taught why people have heroes and why some people become heroes.

Drama students, taught by Mrs. Vicky Wickard, made stage props for the play and learned make-up techniques.

1) Mrs. Vicky Wickard works with Stagecraft class. 2) Mrs. Sandra Butt and English 10 class go over papers. 3) Mrs. Judy Schrader sits next to Santa Claus and Shelley Hatfield at the faculty Christmas party. 4) Mrs. Pat Schock clutches her ever-famous cup of coffee after Hi-Spot class.

New aspects revealed for science students

Chemistry and physics, taught by Mrs. Jane Reed opened up a new aspect of science to students. In chemistry, students participated in experimental discovery. Physics students studied the principles of how and why things move.

Biology, taught by Mr. Randy Marymee and Mr. Jim Christensen studied basic life functions and systems in all living things. The physiology class covered specifically the parts of the human body. These classes gave students a general idea of life, while comparing it to it's environment.

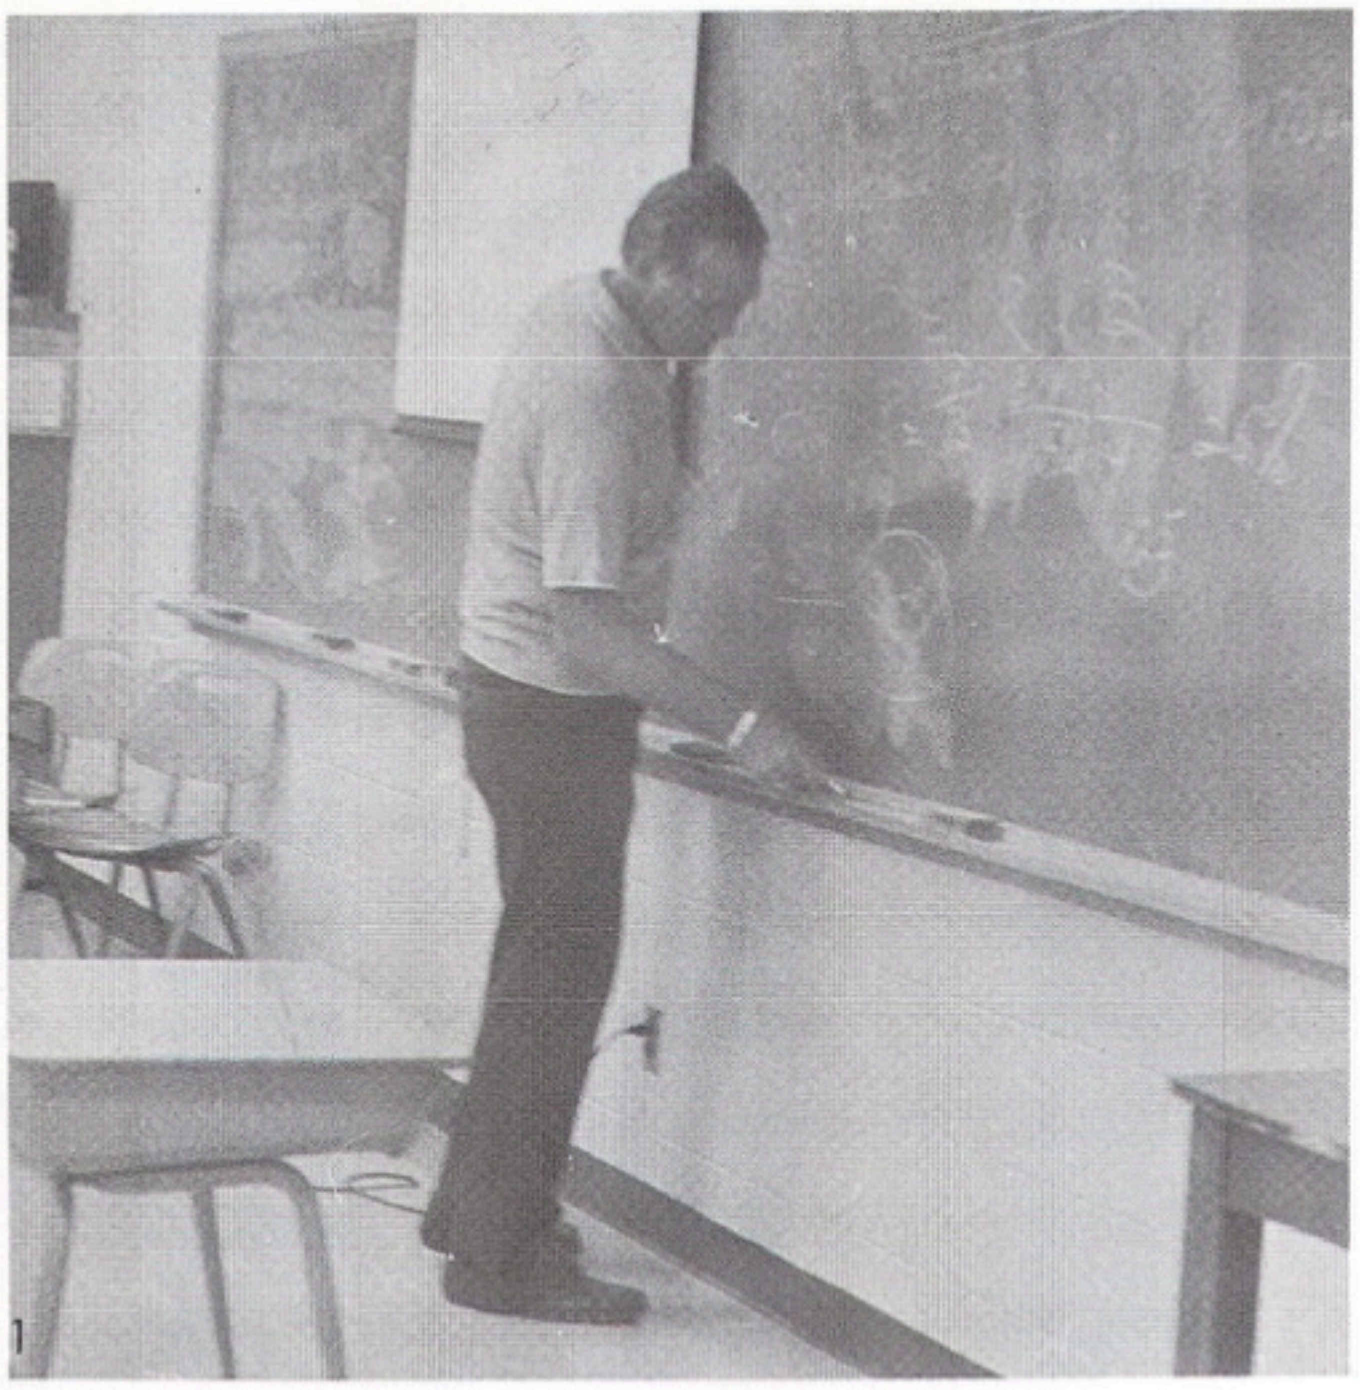
1) Geri Krieser and Jann Carlson attempt a chemistry experiment. 2) Mrs. Jane Reed explains a chemistry problem to Joan Bevans. 3) Mr. Randy Marymee watches his class of biology students. 4) Mr. Jim Christensen prepares a lecture for his health class.



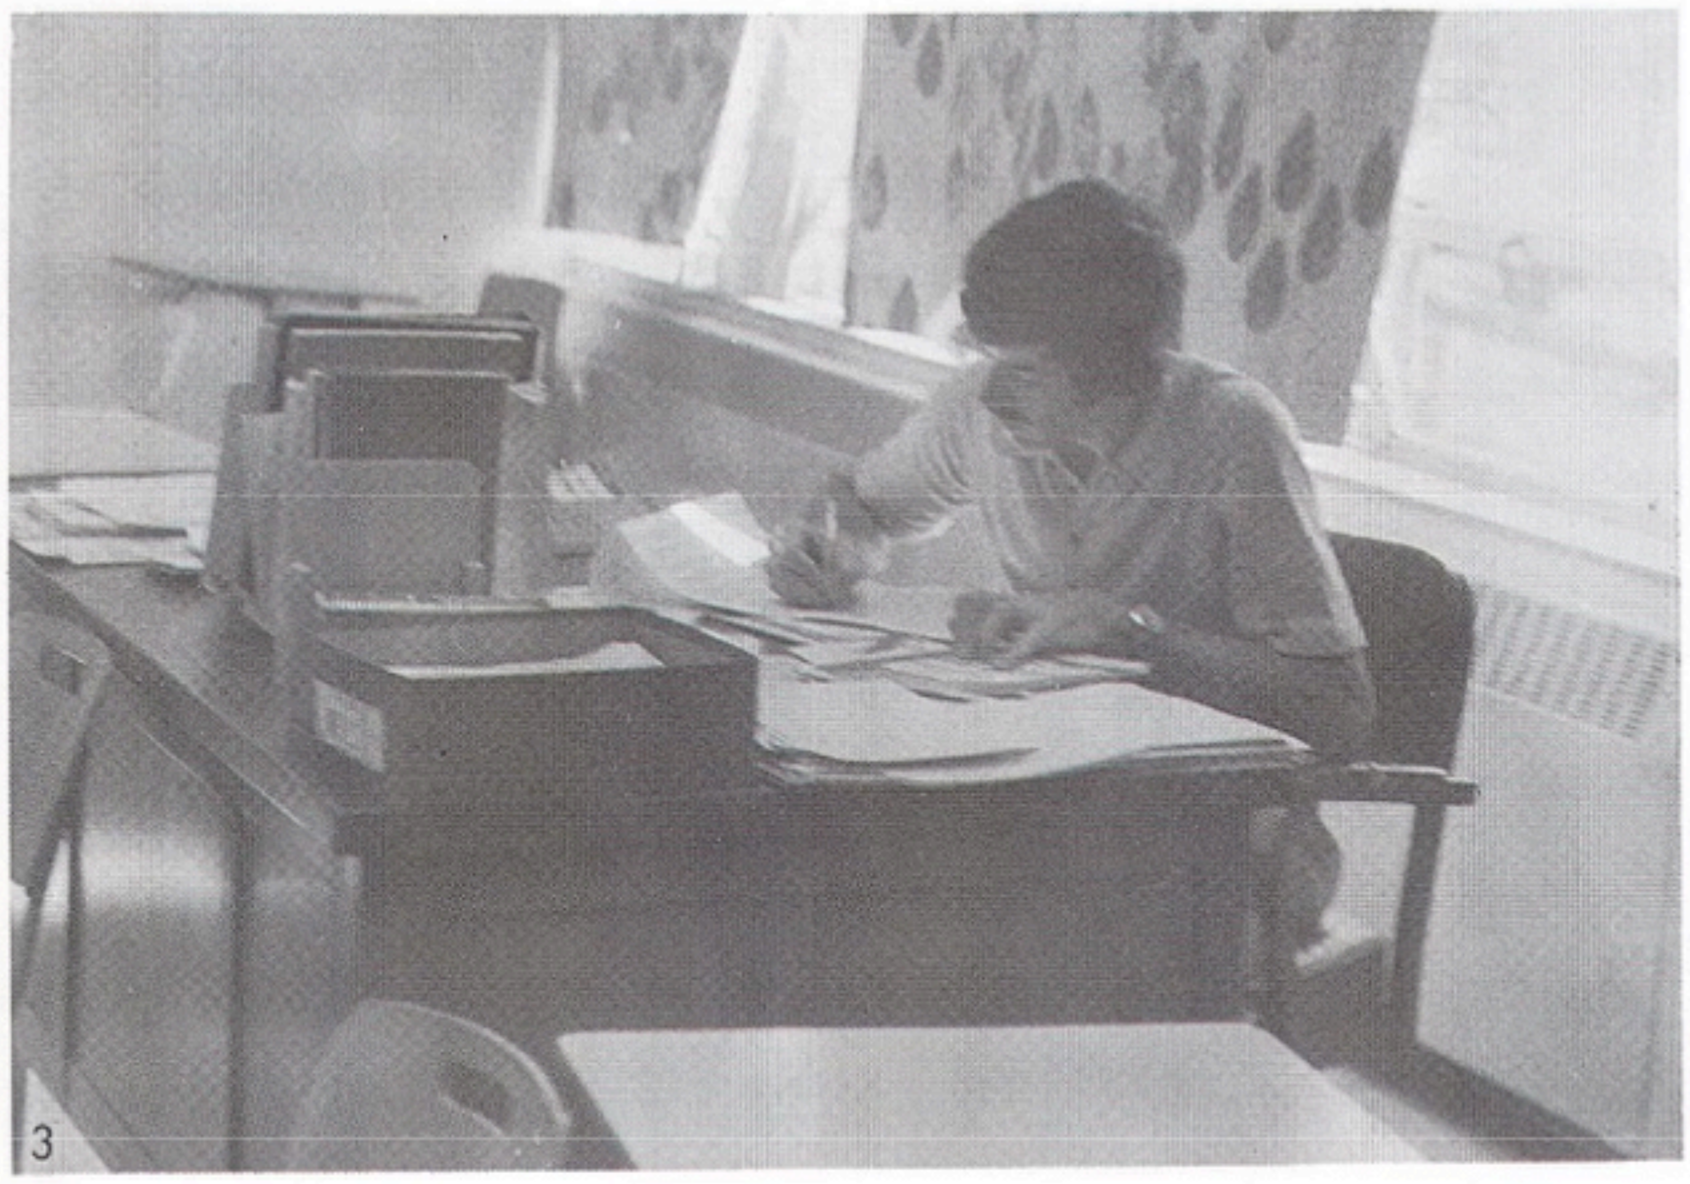
Computer age touches lives of math students

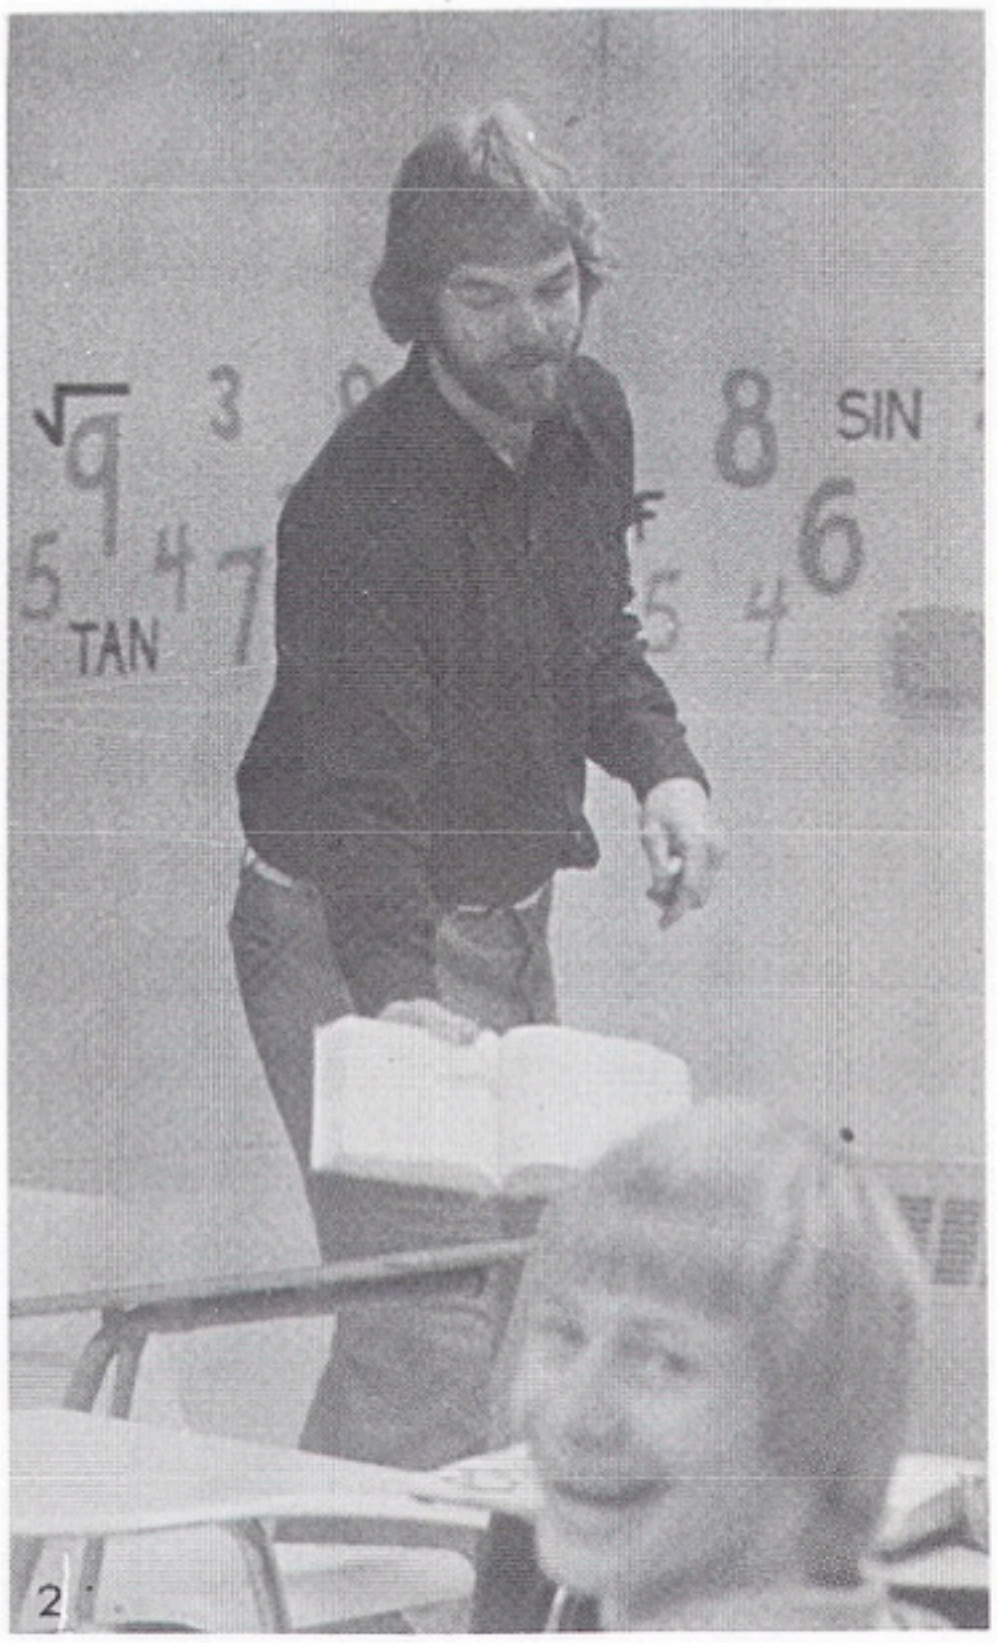
The computer revolution reached into the classes of Waverly.

Calculators were purchased for the Math department and were used by the consumers math students, taught by Mr. Ray Westover.

The math classes ranged from consumer math to Math IV which gave students a good firm setting for college math courses.

Teaching geometry and Math I, was Bill Gannon, Mr. Randy Wubbles teaches Algebra I,II, and Math IV. Also teaching Algebra I was Mrs. Sherry Adams.





1) Mr. Ray Westover explains a consumer's math problem on the board. 2) Mr. Randy Wubbels finishes a lecture for Algebra II class. 4) Mrs. Sherry Adams explains Algebra I problems.

Determination pays off in rewarding season

A rewarding season for Waverly football in 75-76 is almost an understatement. The Vikes were 9-0 going into Nebraska's first state playoff. The Vikes overcame Kimball in the first round 14-7, but were hard-pressed in the Pius game and became Nebraska's first runner-up in the state football playoffs, the first and worst loss of the season.

Reasons for such an outstanding season were numerous. Two stand out above the rest, Senior leadership and unity of the ball club. "Certainly a ball club I enjoyed working with," Coach Randy Hash commented.

Of course the players had something to do with the team's performance, several players received All-Conference honors. These players were Dan Hill, Myron Leibel, Rod Wismer, Mark Winter, Randy Wilhelmy and Cory Eckert. Honorable mention were Denny Buffum, Gary Stall and Perry Clews. Rod Wismer and Mark Winter received recognition on the Class B All-State team.

Powerful ViQueens finally break stride

What's it like to experience a 75-game winning streak, incredible pressure, trying to continue a "volleyball dynasty," and that one resounding question that was always heard on the bus — "Everyone got their kneepads?"

After the pressure of a record-length winning streak was relieved by the loss to Centennial, the ViQueens won both Conference and District competition to make a 400-mile trek across the state to Scottsbluff State Tournament. Advancing to the finals with wins over Grand Island Northwest and Lexington, the ViQueens lost to Ogallala and the second place trophy came to Waverly the same weekend the Vikes placed second in state football competition.

Schweitzer, Kreifels wrestle at State meet

A large number of wrestlers dropping out of active competition injured the team's performance. With 27 wrestlers starting the season, 15 remained at the season's close. All of the remaining wrestlers were expected to return the following year for competition so future prospects were very hopeful, according to Head Coach Rick Roffers.

Two of the remaining 15 wrestlers were experienced in active competition, so a very inexperienced wrestling team was the result. As a team, the wrestlers had an excellent year for the amount of experience they had.

The two wrestlers with experience were Doug Kreifels and Robert Schweitzer, 21-4-2 and 20-8 respectively. Doug and Robert both wrestled in state competition during the state wrestling tournament.

Viking basketball team plagued by injuries

Myron Leibel with a broken foot in the Ashland game, and Rick Erickson with a broken finger in the same game, what is this with the broken bones? The boy's basketball team was plagued with injuries and inexperience. The two returning starters gave the team a lot of help, but it wasn't quite enough. Coach Christensen commented, "These two factors (broken bones and few returning starters) probably cost us all the close games we lost."

The Vikings worked hard, with everyday practice consisting of a regular practice session of a 20 minute shooting period, ten minutes of lay-ups, ball drills, three-man-weave, scrimmaging, and running two sets of laps in the gym. Even in the face of all this hard work, the boys kept up their willpower and hopes.

The highlight of the season was the Cozad, Lexington trip. The two cities were far enough from Waverly to justify and overnight stay and everyone going was provided with free meals. Everyone enjoyed the trip.

High scorer for the team this year was Rod Wismer, and Mark Winter was the team's leading rebounder.

Cross Country team becomes experienced

"Teamwise the runners are generally inexperienced and young, but all the team members did all right," commented Coach Scott Johnson at the close of the season.

Senior Ed Wilkason had an outstanding year. He held the second best cross country time in Waverly's history. Coach Johnson considered Ed one of the best all around.

Coach Johnson said the underclassmen ran real well throughout the season, and are expected to run better in the years to come.

Boy tracksters place with conference trophy

42 men went out for track. The highlight of the season, according to Coach Randy Hash, was the large freshman class. 28 freshmen were on the team.

Waverly's tracksters walked away with the conference trophy by a 128 point score and qualified Mark Winter and Bill Brown for state competition. Mark placed fifth in shot at state and Bill qualified in the high jump by clearing 6 feet.

New records were set by Mark Winter who broke his own shot record, the record now stands at 54′ 1/4″ and Ed Wilkason ran the 2-mile in a record-breaking 10:25.7.

Girls take conference

The 1975-76 Waverly girl's track team sent four girls to State. They were Viv Sailors, Sharon Lostroh, Cindy Schuster, and DeAnn Hutton. The girls also broke seven of the old school records. Viv broke the records in the 100, the 220, the 440, and she anchored the 880 relay. Julie West broke the old discus record, and DeAnn Hutton broke the old long jump record. At the Conference meet, out of ten teams, the Waverly girls placed first. It was the first Conference win since 1971. In that meet, the girls won the 440 relay, the 880 relay, the mile relay, and placed in the high jump, discus, and 440.

Some of the success of the team came from their staying power. 61 girls went out for track and 47 remained to complete the season. The student managers for the 75-76 team were Debbie Hutton, and Jean Weiler.

Juniors golf at state; best golf year ever

Rain was the bane of existence for golfers during the 1975-76 year cancelling the York Invitational and shortening the Fairbury Invitational by 9 holes, not to mention the numerous practices that were called off.

The golfers, however, despite the rain, qualified two individuals for the state tournament. Those individuals were Rick Erickson and Kevin Baker. Coach Bill Gannon stated, "This was my best year as a coach. We defeated several teams at district that had defeated the team earlier."

Girl golfers add new look to sports lineup

The Waverly girls golf team in its first year found their golf opponents tough as they dropped their six regular season meets.

The team consisted of seniors Cindy Eliker, and Cindy Bockelman, juniors Jill Marshall and Deanna Burcham, sophomore Linda Ganz, and freshmen Susie Kruger, Tami Siefkes, and Lisa Ketelhut. They were coached by Mr. Bill Gannon.

Gannon stated that the girls had picked up the basics and greatly improved since the beginning of the season. They finished their season by placing 33 out of 37 at state.

Viking committed to recording memories

If you asked a student why he bought a yearbook he would probably say "To remember what went on during the year." If you asked a Viking staff member why he worked so hard on it he probably would mention a feeling of accomplishment and wanting to contribute something to the school.

The 1976 Viking staff was headed by editors Erin Dodge and Mark Bachenberg. Section writers were: Activities; Linda Johnson, Tammy Dragoo, Deb Whitney, Nancy Rocker, Twila Johnson and Cindy Bockelman. Faculty; Clarice Lipe and Linda Ganz. Students; Sharon Bogle and Cindy Eliker. Sports; Rod Wismer and Martin Costello. Ads; Deb Sedlacek, Denny Buffum, and Ron Ryan. Photographers; Gary Stall, Jean Large and Dan Hill.

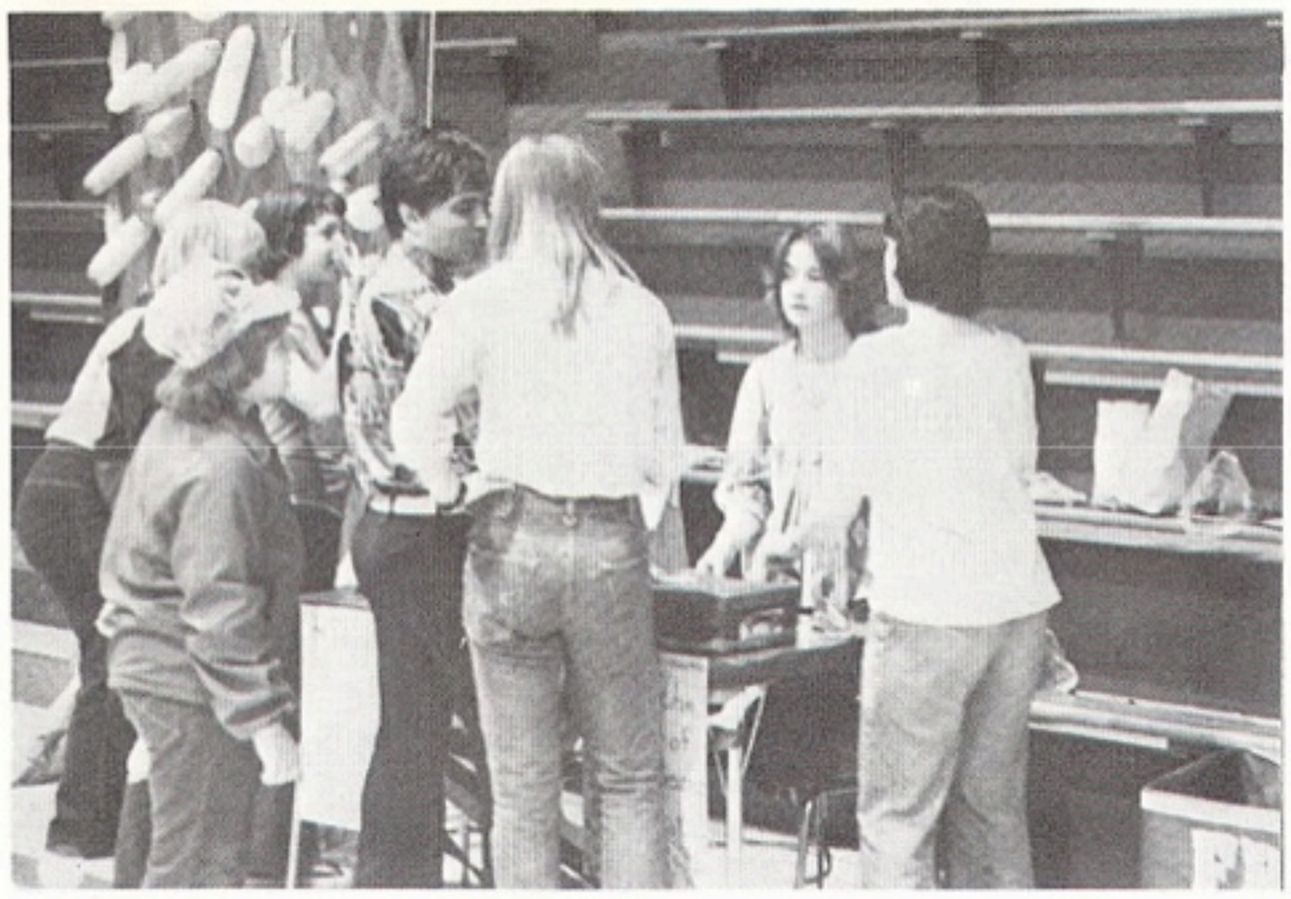
German highlighted the year with interesting projects including a traditional Fasching party, a pre-Lenten costume party, and the annual spring picnic at Pioneers Park.

Using the selling of stationery as a money-making project, the club members and their sponsor Miss Mary Gangwish earned money to send a member to German camp in the summer and to give a donation to the AFS chapter. German Club also helped AFS by sponsoring a biergarten at the spring AFS carnival.

The club officers were President Cheryl Nelson, Vice President Lyra Acree, Secretary Cheryl Puchalla, Treasurer Deanna Mowery, Historian Lori Zimmer. Total membership was 42.



AFS fair promotes exchange students

American Field Service (AFS) students, as other foreign exchange programs, bring new and interesting ideas of distant countries to various parts of the United States.

The Waverly AFS Chapter worked to raise money by having a carnival where all the clubs and organizations participated and a slave auction.

The Waverly AFS program was sponsored by Miss Mary Gangwish and Mr. Lon Hoppel. Nina Flygare was our exchange student from Stockholm, Sweden and was housed by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nansel. Geri Kreiser and Janence Bevans were chosen to go abroad. Janece was sent to Iran and Geri's destination was Costa Rica.

Trapshooters promote gun safety, fellowship

Gun safety, fellowship, and the sport of trap shooting were promoted by the 26 members of the Waverly High School Trap Club.

Highlighting the years activities for the club were sending two teams to the state trapshoot in April and hosting the Waverly Invitational Trap Shoot.

Lynn Kaufmann, co-sponsor for the organization with Dave Dey, commented, "The purpose of the Waverly Trap Club is to promote gun safety as well as learning all the fundamentals of becoming a good trap shooter."

The club, which completed its second year, required its members to be in grades nine through 12. Eighth graders could be non-shooting members.

The Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) proved their aggressive business leadership with their organized and confident members. They got off to an excellent start with the selling of the All American Fund Raising Kits which showed their ability to participate effectively in business and community life. The members also sold raffle tickets.

Other activities included the recycling of paper, slide presentations to the freshmen, the decorating of bulletin boards, a Christmas Valentinos' party, FBLA convention and the keeping of records at the basketball marathon.

"The first year of FBLA was very successful because of the interested members, many activities, and money-making projects which kept us busy throughout the year," commented Kim Snyder, president.

Mrs. Beverly Newton served as the club sponsor.

Bicentennial concert accents band's activities

Fireworks at the bicentennial football half-time show, marching in Lincoln at Pershing in the State Marching Band Contest, and a flashy Bicentennial Concert were the highlights for the Waverly Viking Band's 1975-76 year.

Individual awards were won by band members, Janece Bevans, and Kevin Wissink in the All State Band. Bob Maag, Kevin Wissink and Janece Bevans were also members of the Nebraska Honor Band. Geri Kreiser was a member of the Wesleyan Plainsman Festival Honor Band. Receiving superior ratings at District Band Contest at Crete were: Janece Bevans, Flute Solo; Bob Maag, Marimba Solo; Kevin Wissink, Trumpet Solo; Mark Lemke, Tuba Solo; Flute Quartet; Trumpet Trio; Flute Duet; and the Flute Trio.

Along with the everyday practices the band attended Plattsmouth Invitational Marching Contest. The Pep Band added musical spirit to the festivities of both home and away games.

Plants, painting bring visual appeal to library

A rubber plant, a terrarium, a magazine subscription and a painting were all bought by the 1975-76 Media Assistants Club. These purchases were made possible from chapter dues and concession sales at games.

13 students and three sponsors attended the state convention at Omaha Benson, and Waverly's chapter was in charge of installation of officers. Work day was December six, which involved decorating the library for Christmas.

The Media Assistants Club objective was to create an interest in good literature and to provide a uniform system for lending books and magazines to students; to operate and maintain the schools audio visual equipment and to assist teachers and other students in the use of audio-visual materials.

The club consists of 40 members and four officers: President, Debbie Gloekler; Vice President, Susan Turner; Secretary, Nancy Rocker; and Treasurer, Linda Hall.

International Honorary Society for High School Journalists

Hill, Dolezal awarded Outstanding Journalist

A popular activity for organizations is the pizza party. Quill and Scroll's pizza party, held in the fall with National Honor Society, was an event long to be remembered by the 40 people who attended the party that night at Valentino's.

Another activity of Quill and Scroll is awarding the winner of the Outstanding Journalist of the Year. Dan Hill and Lorraine Dolezal were co-winners of the award as a result of a tie in points accumulated.

Twelve letters were awarded in journalism this year by Mrs. Pat Schock, Hi-Spot and Viking advisor. Those lettering were Dan Hill, Lorraine Dolezal, Deb Whitney, Mark Bachenberg, Gary Stall, Nancy Rocker, Deb Sedlacek, Cindy Bockelman, Sharon Bogle, Cindy Eliker, Linda Johnson, and Erin Dodge.

Membership requirements for Quill and Scroll state that the student must be a junior or a senior in the upper third of the class and have shown outstanding work in journalism.

Hi-Spot strives to inform school district

Placing second in overall competition at the 1976 Nebraska High School Journalism Championships was part of a successful year for the Hi-Spot. Individual honors included Sally Garrison, second place in advertising; Jean Weiler, third place in advertising; and second in editorial cartooning went to Kathy Judds. Lorraine Dolezal won third place in editorial writing, and Sally Garrison placed second in the state for feature writing and third for sports writing.

One of the goals achieved by the Hi-Spot staff was keeping the school district informed about current issues and activities. The Hi-Spot is published bi-weekly and is paid for by local advertisements. The advanced journalism students distributed 14 issues throughout the school year, two of which were six page papers. The remaining 12 were standard four page issues.

Pep Club strives to change structure

Shivering on a cold bus with pillows, blankets and mittens constantly being rearranged. Trying to put on someone else's eyeshadow between the bumps, and going over how everyone's love life has been going since last week. Pep club members hold these and other memories close to their heart.

Pep Club activities included a successful moneymaking project where members sold boxed candy, they sponsored Homecoming and had a pizza party at the end of the year. They also had three concession stands.

An Addition to the traditional Fifties day activities a Foxy Lady contest was introduced. It consisted of every boy wearing a Foxy Lady badge and giving it to the first girl who could make him talk. Linda Johnson and Cindy Wulf tied for the title of Foxy Lady.

Starbird, coronation brighten Homecoming

"...Come gentle night; come, loving, black brow'd night; give me my Romeo..."
Romeo and Juliet
William Shakespeare

Beside the usual anticipation of a homecoming coronation, was the realization of a theme that this was "A Time For Us".

After a convincing victory over Auburn a convivial mood prevailed amid a slice of the Elizabethan era, complete with balcony and fountain. King Dan Hill and Queen Cindy Wulf were crowned by last year's royalty, John Hegel and Lorie Callaway.

Athletic honors reflect successful seasons

Highlighting this year's athletic banquet was speaker Don Watchorn, Athletic Director at Midland College. He spoke of the importance of motivation and general value of athletics for both girls and boys.

Each coach then summarized their season, announcing the squad's lettermen, special recognition and honors.

The 3-D award for a senior boy and girl who have participated in sports during every season for 3 years was awarded to LuAnn Hestermann, Dan Hill, Mark Winter and Terry Kreifels.

Selected as girl athlete of the year was LuAnn Hestermann, who was picked for the All-State Volleyball team this year. She also participated in girls basketball and track. Boy athlete of the year is Mark Winter who was selected for the All-State Football team this year. He also participated in boys basketball and track.

There were 10 senior girls and 12 senior boys who received letters in their sports.

The meal was organized by a committee of mothers of athletes.

W-Club hosts relays, "Freedom Jam" concert

"Let's see that's two hot dogs, four bags of popcorn, three cokes and a couple of candy bars." These are sounds of W-Club members hard at work, running the concession stand or selling tickets to junior high activities. The money from these activities help to buy sports equipment.

Other projects included Homecoming, Mom's and Dad's nights at varsity events and the W-Club relays which took place during the track season.

One of the highlights of the year was "Freedom Jam" a rock group performing to a bi-centennial theme; so this was no dull year for the W-Club members.

W-Clubs' major goal was to create a fellowship between the athletes and student body in such a way that the students would have the enthusiasm the athletes did.

1976 membership was composed of male athletes and student managers who had earned a varsity letter in any of the competitive varsity sports at Waverly High school. 25 sophomore, junior, and senior athletes met membership requirements.

Officers were president Myron Leibel, Vice-President Rod Wismer, and Secretary-Treasurer Jeff Olson.

Senior winning tradition upheld in spirit week

The class of '76 prevailed during spirit week, for their third year. The senior class won both hall and skit competition. The sophomores won competition for the highest attendance of a class to a game.

The judges felt the sophomore hall had the most original theme, with Jeff Ryan and his horse highlighting their skit. The Peanuts theme, used by the juniors was developed through both their hall and skit. With a Bicentennial theme the seniors obtained the trophy for both skit and hall decorating.

Spirit week ended with the girls basketball team winning over Gretna and the boys basketball team defeating Norris.

Choir's message, Say it with a song

The Waverly Concert Choir opened their 1976 swing show with rock songs such as "Rock Me Gently", "I Won't Last a Day Without You", and many more. The choir ended their show with "The Sound of Music". The finale consisted of many old songs from Broadway hits "My Fair Lady", "Oklahoma", "South Pacific", "Music Man", and the "Sound of Music". Two months were spent in preparation for the swing show, plus many extra hours which were needed for choreography, memorizing music, and painting flats.

Besides the traditional concerts, the choir and swing choirs performed at community churches, a bicentennial halftime show, and local and district contest, in which they received a superior rating.

Outstanding choir members were chosen toward the end of the year by the whole choir. There were six seniors, Janece Bevans, Joan Bevans, Kenny Gleaves, Cheryl Nelson, Cheri Sundeen, and Joyce Taylor. There were also three juniors, Julie Larsen, Bob Maag, and Jeff Olson. The choir also chose rookie of the year which was Kevin Wissink.

Courtroom drama, theatre arts festival presented

Guilty, or not Guilty, that is the question. This years fall play was "The Night of January 16th ." The question was asked of the 12 jurors that were picked from the audience. In the play, a prosperous business man was pushed off a tall building by his lover Miss Andra, who was brought to trial to be sentenced as the appointed jurors decided. The first night the jurors decided to let her go free and the second night they decided to declare her guilty.

Waverly High presented, instead of the annual spring play, a Theater Arts Festival. The festival consisted of 5 one act plays, mimes, and Interpretive dance. The one act plays were; The Puppet Master, The Long Home, The Induction, The Afterwards, and The Goats. The cast consisted of; Brenda Buis, Chyrstal Buis, Paula Kinney, Janine Copple, Brian Holman, Bob Kreifels, Denise Ritchey, Aleta Skow, Scott Steffen, Julie Dragoo, Tammy Dragoo, Shelley Hatfield, Vickey Cooper, Diane Shaw, Geri Krieser, Bruce Johnson, Ben Egger, Elaine Kodejs, Susan Gruttis, Joyce Allen, Pat Pagler, Sheree Hawkins, and Karen Johnson.

Members in Math and Science show initiative

To promote and share interests in Math and Science was the main goal of the Math and Science Club this year.

The annual Math and Science fair was held March 23, speaker for the night was Dr. Earl Lampshire, president of the Nebraska Hypnotic Society. First place awards went to Geri Kreiser and Theresa Hegarty in Life Science, Peggy Clews in Physical Science, and Suzanne Tyrell in Math.

They participated in the AFS fair by running an air hockey game. Their other projects were their general store and baby guessing contest. They're also going on a canoe trip down the Niobrara River the end of May.

Council efforts center on bicentennial ideas

The main effort of the Bicentennial Committee was the salute to the bicentennial with a flagpole and time capsule dedication ceremony. Each organization that donated to the flagpole fund, contributed a small item representing their club for the time capsule which was sealed at the base of the flagpole till July 4, 2076.

The student council members and Mr. Verl Flack sponsored the noon announcements, trophy case calendar, football and volleyball recognition ceremonies and the AFS carnival.

The Senior class council organized the graduation ceremonies, the juniors prepared the program for the Junior-Senior Prom, and the Sophomores had a bake sale and raffle to raise money for their class.

Sharing involvements promoting fellowship

The FHA chapter broadened their scope of activities by adding projects that promoted fellowship among members with less emphasis on Home Ec.

A slumber party in the gym was one of the highlights of the year. Activities included volleyball and relay races and the girls made their own breakfast of doughnuts the next morning.

The chapter participated in the Vocational Club marathon for the Waverly and Alvo rescue squads. The girls provided the meals for the other clubs as well as playing basketball.

Other group projects were a summer hayrack ride, mother-member meeting, selling spook insurance, a bake sale and district and state conventions.

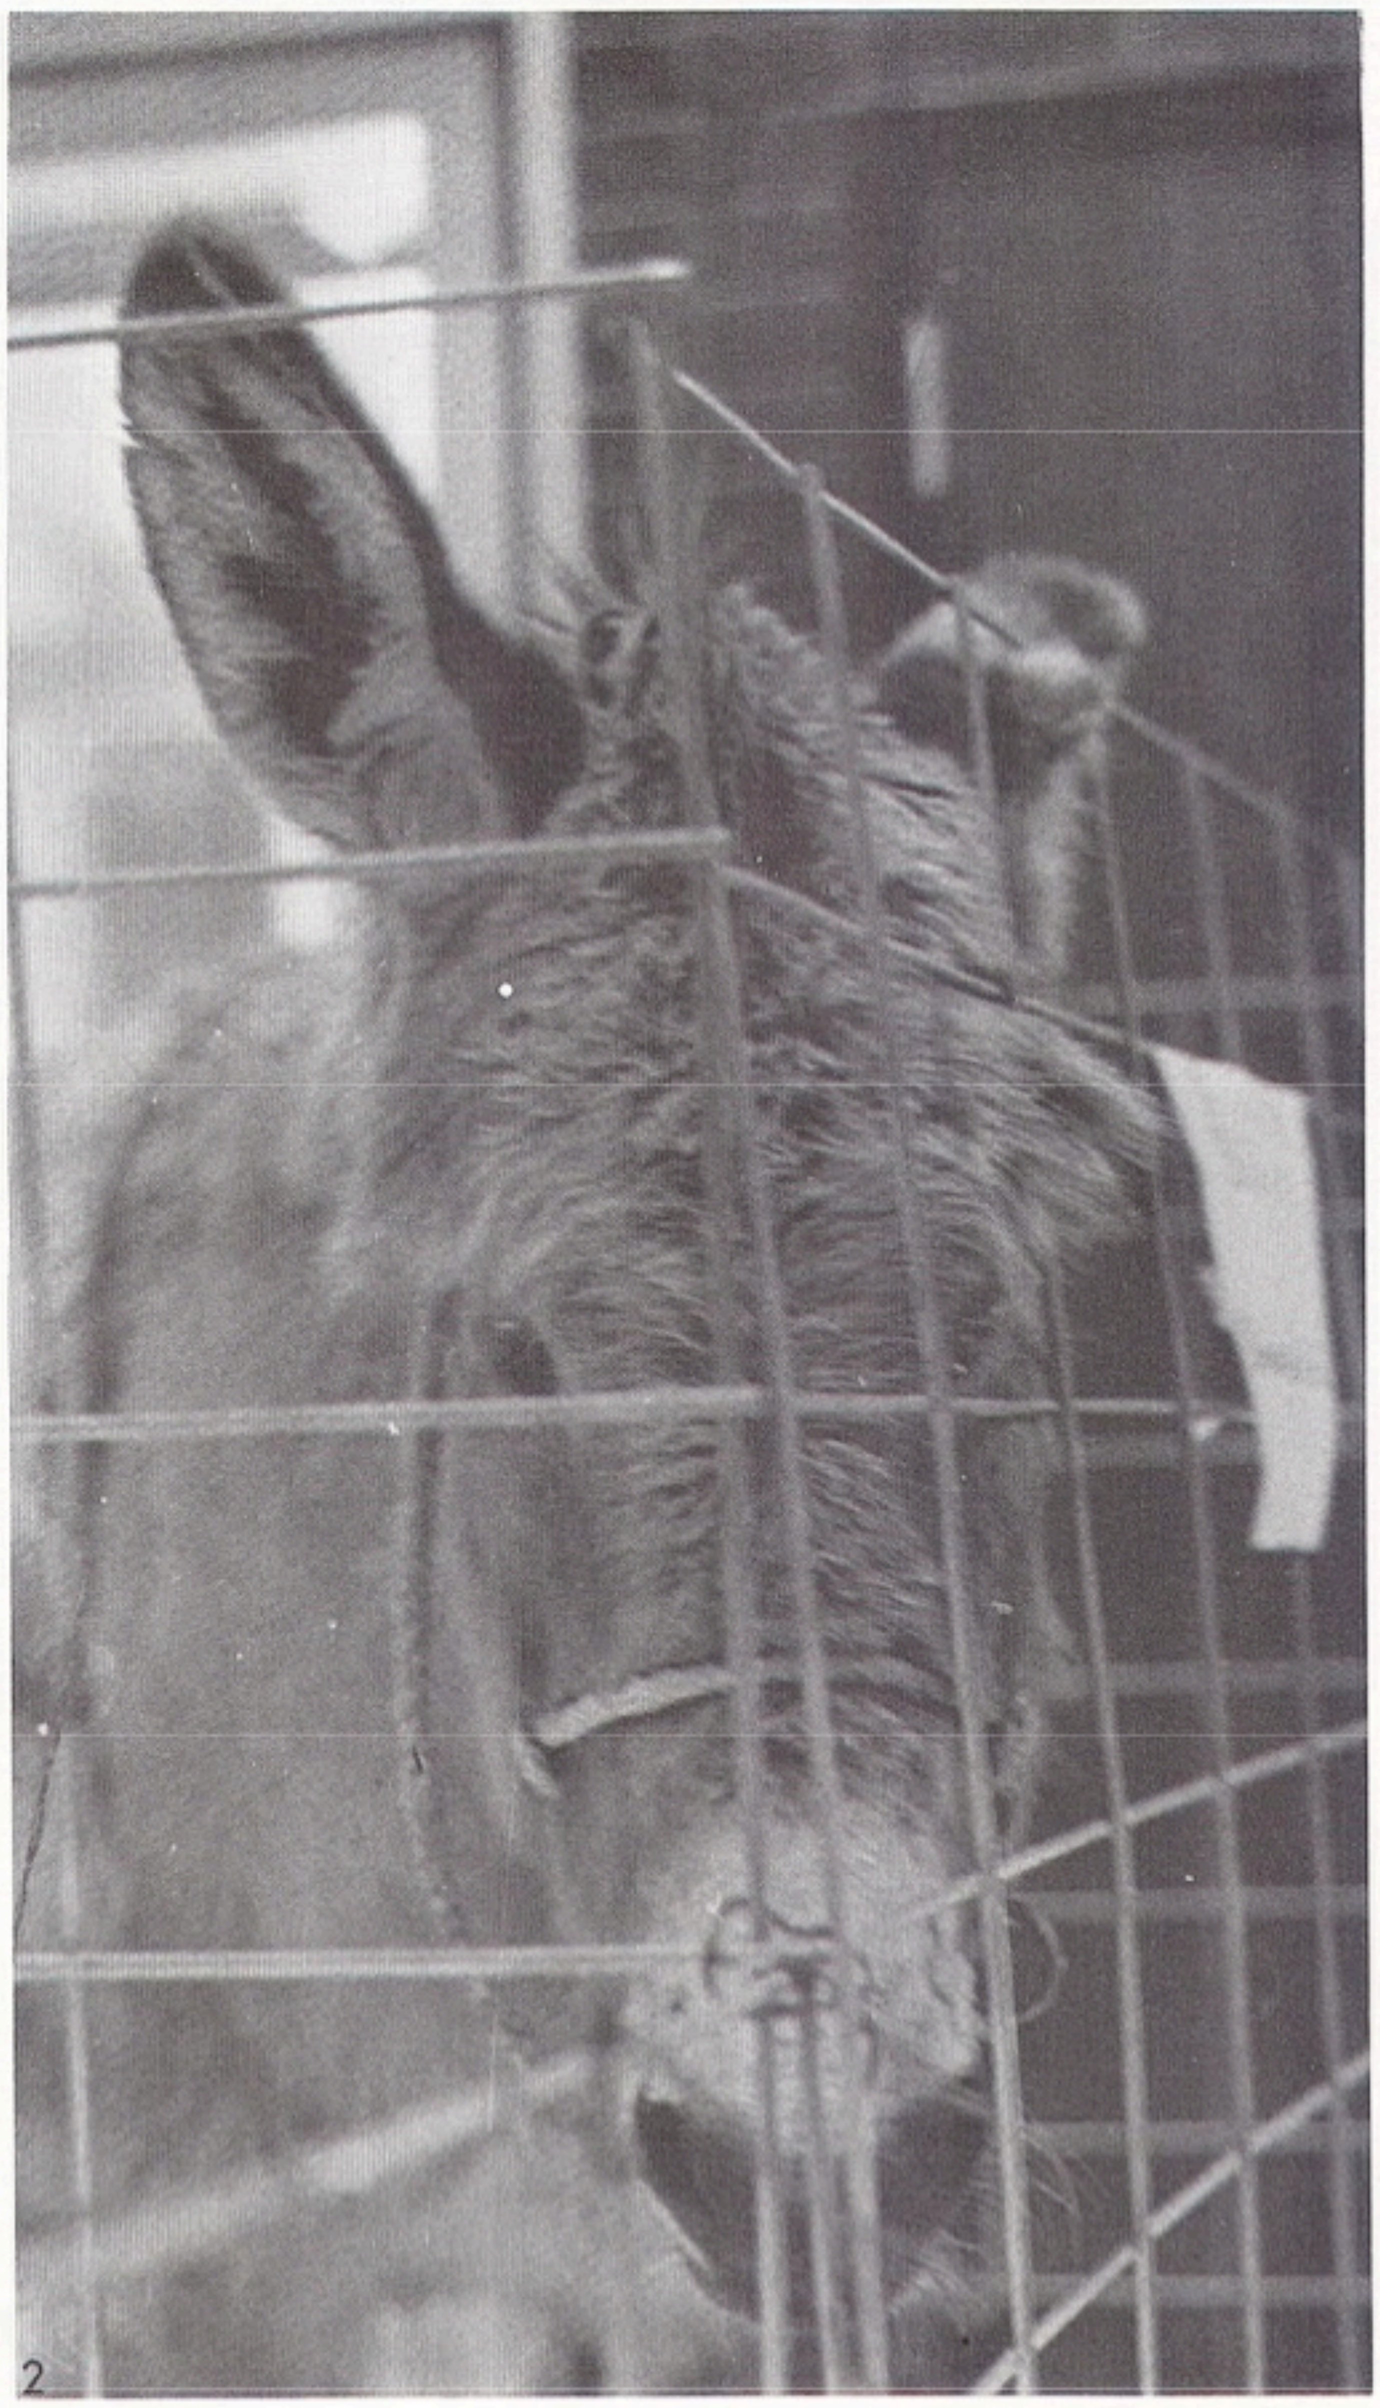
FFA deeds prove faith in farmings future



FFA has shown Waverly that it can be proud of it's men and women in the business of farming and agricultural related fields. The FFA participated in many leadership activities, including State Fair entries and Ak-Sar-Ben, officer leadership camp, charity Vocational Club basketball marathon, rang bells for Salvation Army, State and National Conventions, attending local, district, and state contests, state band and choir, held the local banquet, organization of the Governor's Proclamation of State FFA Week, keeping a supėrior chapter rating, and sponsoring the annual Snowball Dance. The members also planned and organized the Easter farm at Gateway, and elected the 1976-77 officers for the chapter.

Magical moments spotlight 'Snowball' dance

"'Could It Be Magic', the theme for Snowball, really fit the atmosphere for me." These were Linda Johnson's impressions from Snowball after her crowning as FFA sweetheart. Honored as Snowball king was Scott Lorenson.

Selected to perform for the March 6 dance was "Starbird". Complementing the theme were decorations featuring a silhouette of two lovers, a miniature castle, and a bridge. Pat Pageler, Cheryl Juilfs, and Melissa Dudley were the FHA officers in charge of the decorations.

To be considered for Snowball queen, the girls must be seniors in FHA, which co-sponsors the annual dance with the FFA. FFA selects the queen and two attendants from the eligible girls. The same procedure is followed in the FHA selection of king.

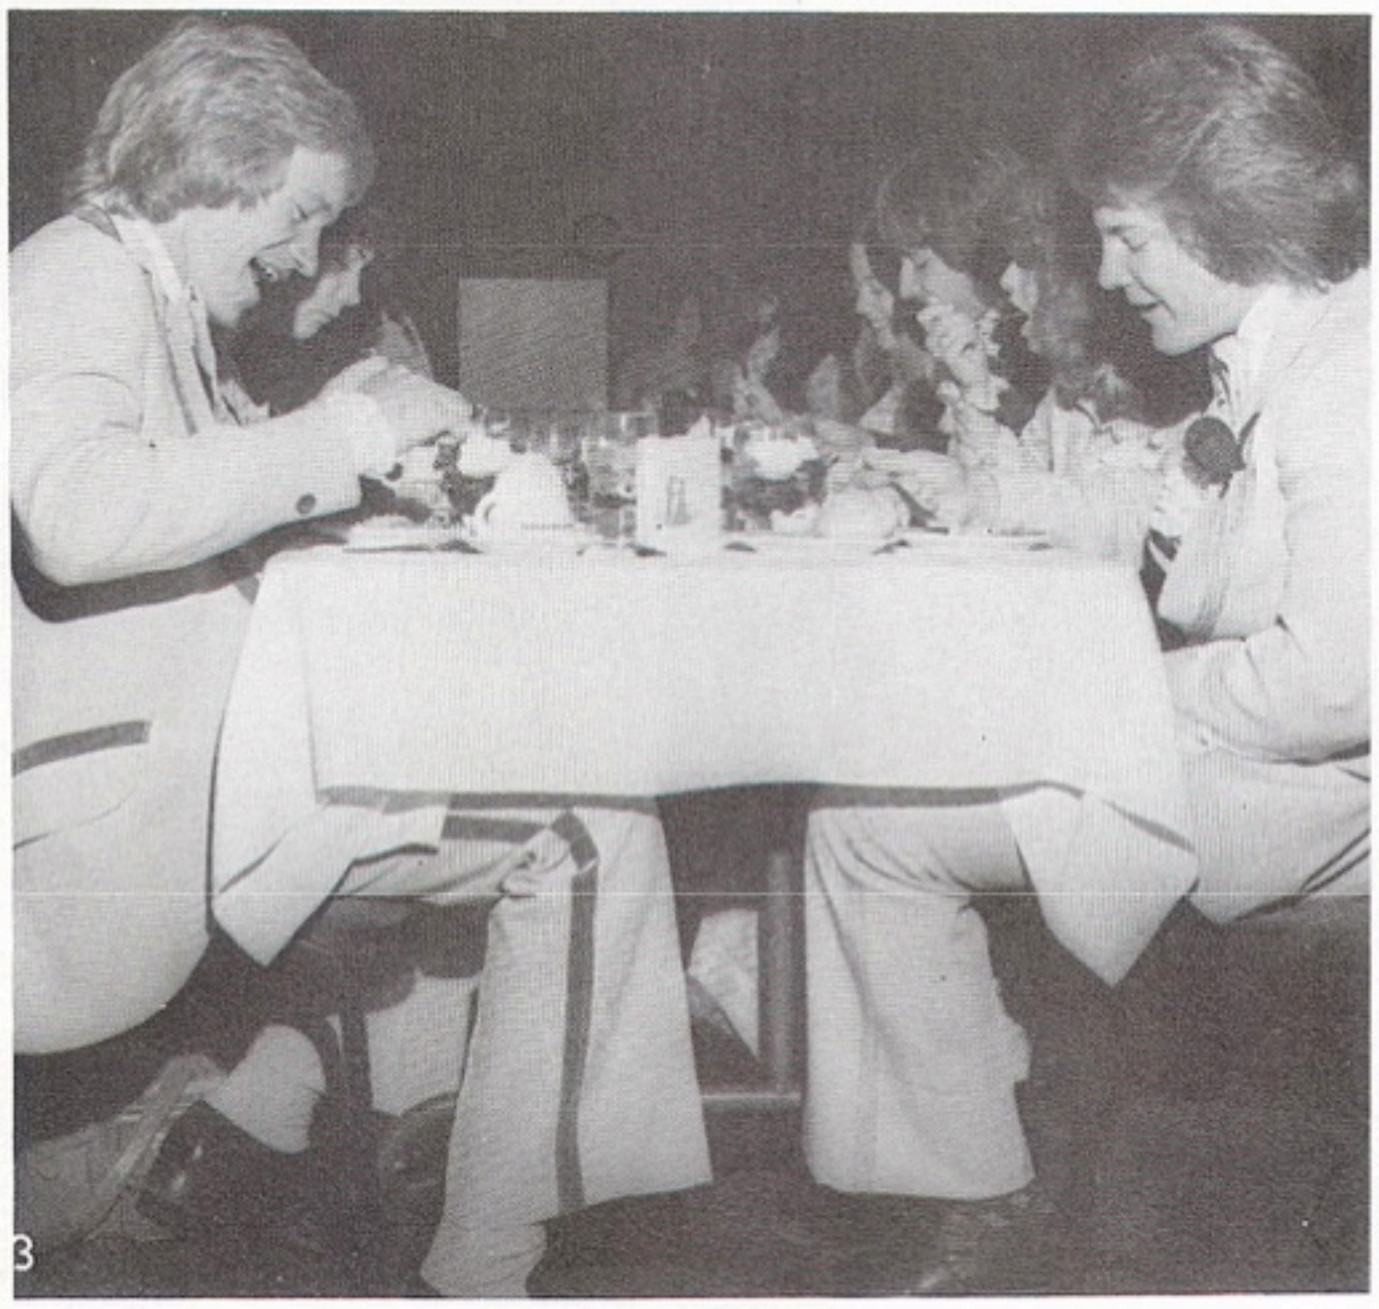
Junior-senior prom a special time of our lives



The Ramada Inn ball room at the airport was the scene of the junior-senior prom. A special addition was a slide presentation produced by the junior class. It featured memorable events throughout the year. This was shown during the singing of the theme song.

The juniors, in charge of preparations for the prom, chose "Times of Our Lives" as the theme and theme song. Singing the theme song were juniors Diane Shaw and Bob Maag. Mr. Charles Eastham and Mrs. Marge Fritz, the junior class sponsors, helped coordinate the preparations.

The senior class, sponsored by Mr. Robert Morris and Mr. Gary Lutz, were in charge of choosing and paying for the band. The seniors selected "Matthew", a band from Lincoln.

The banquet began at 6:30 with the dance following at 9:00. Junior Dan Hruska gave the welcome and Dan Hill gave the senior response. A meal consisting of Chicken, corn, mashed potatoes, salad and desert was featured and chosen by the junior class.

1) Diane Shaw and Bob Maag perform the theme song at prom. 2) Student council members sitting at the head table look on as Dan Hill speaks. 3) Mark Bachenberg and Myron Leibel enjoy their meal. 4) Students dance to the music of "Matthew".

Graduates reflect on shared experiences commence - kə′ men(t)s 1: to have to make a beginning.

(Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary)

To make a beginning - this is what Commencement '76 meant to 122 seniors. This was shown in the selection of the motto, "I am not afraid of tomorrow, for I have seen yesterday and I love today."

A Bicentennial theme was chosen to celebrate Baccalaureate, May 16, and Commencement, the following night. The first one-third of the class wore red, the center third wore white, and the final third of the class wore blue. Red and white roses were worn by the seniors on Commencement night.

Ushering the seniors were Nancy Bogle, Julie Larsen, Jill Marshall, Joan Werger, Rick Erickson, Mike Jeffries, Jeff Olson, and Rob Schweitzer. The eight were voted on by the senior class. Sponsors for the class were Mr. Gary Lutz and Mr. Robert Morris.

In charge of services at Baccalaureate was the Reverend Royce Rinehart, Lutheran minister at Eagle. Mrs. June Voss and Mrs. Norma Sundeen were the pianists both nights.

Honored as Valedictorian was Janece Bevans. Giving the salutatory address was Cheryl Puchalla, who gave recognition to Tammy Wobig as third in the class. Mr. Wayne Nielsen, president of the board of Education, highlighted the Commencement ceremonies by presenting the diplomas.

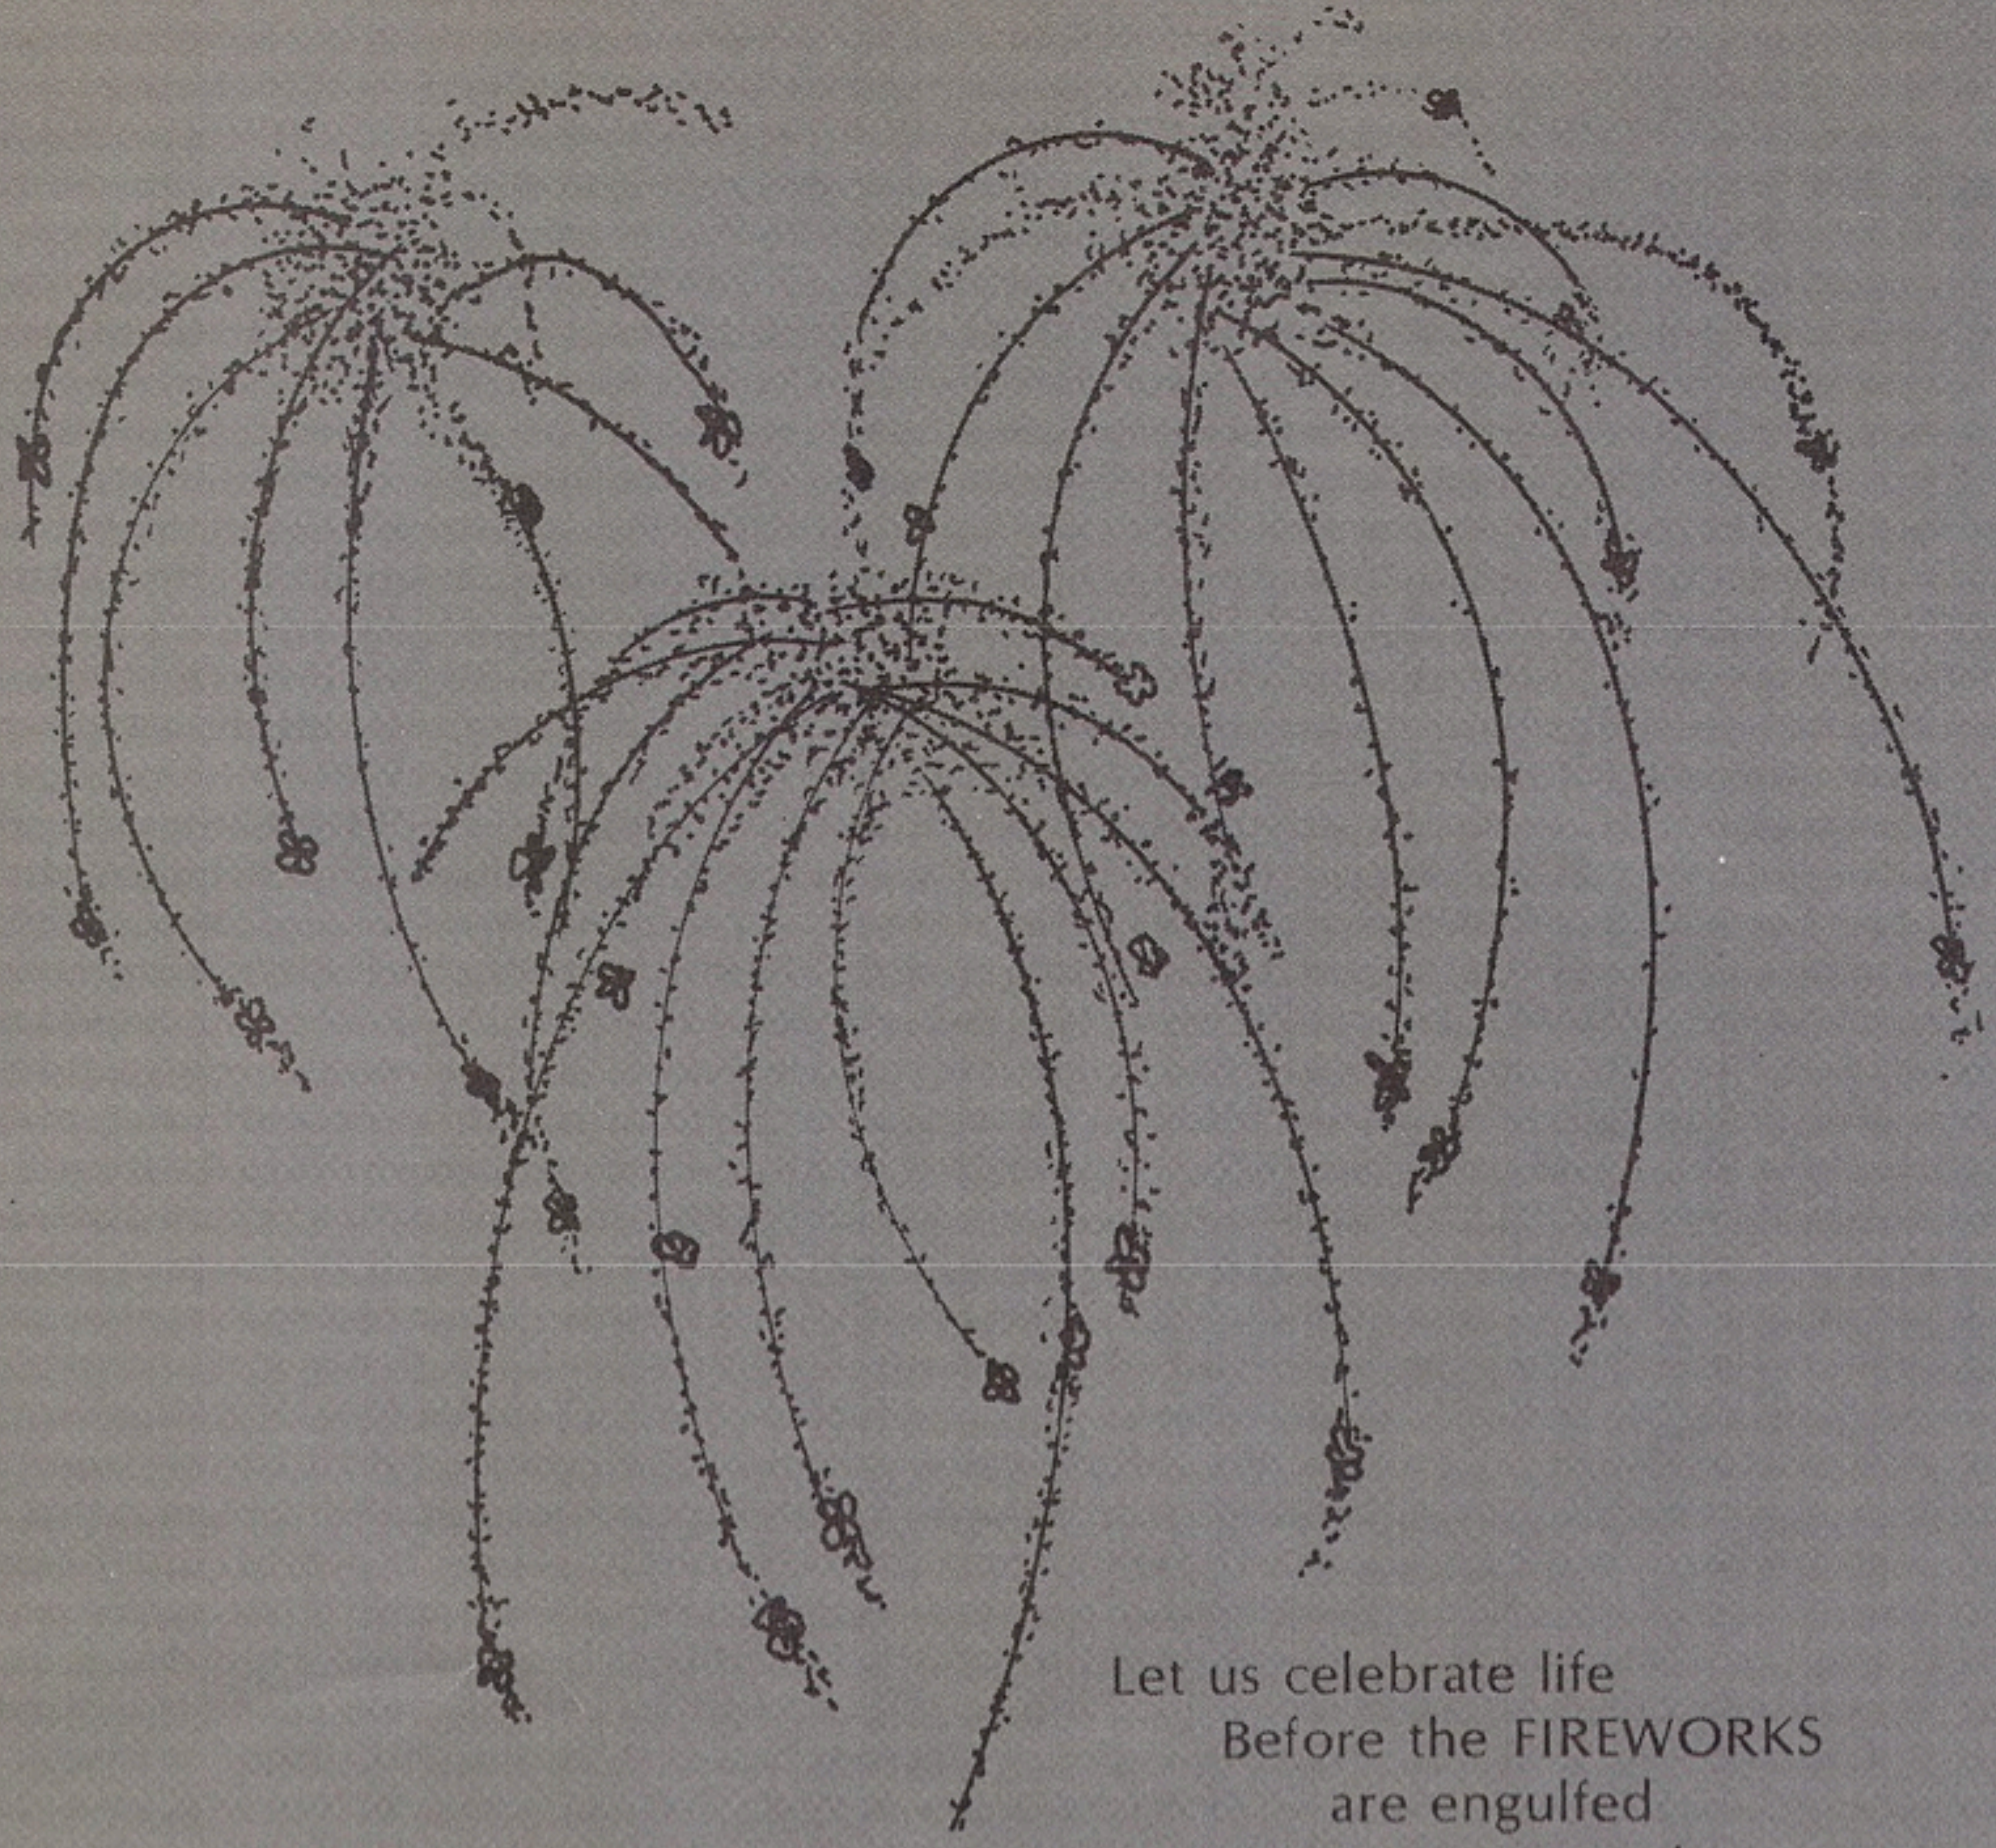
Marceline, Mo., U.S.A.



Let us celebrate life
Before the FIREWORKS
are engulfed
once again
in blackness.

1976, a year for celebration, reflection, and reviewing the past. In creating this yearbook our desire was to preserve and revive memories of experience shared. We hope our efforts can create a lasting image of Waverly High for each of you.

Our special thanks to our advisor, Mrs. Pat Schock for creating order out of chaos; Joan Bevans for the theme poem; Mary Ann Slechta for fireworks pictures; Tarryl Bockelman; the NEWS, and Shelley Hatfield.

Erin Dodge
1976 VIKING editor
